Scriptures and Doctrine :: Simply Complicated

Dear SermonIndexians,

There are too extremes best avoided when it comes to regarding the Majesty of the Lord.

1. Simplifying
2. Complicating

However, this matter is easily solved if one stays out of Commentaries, unless you are boggled, however if you can do without you will find that the Word of God, is:

1. Simple enough
2. Complicated enough

It is amazing how, I was thinking if there was a book that would sell as well as Rick Warren's PDL. It has got to be the book of Romans: author the Apostle Paul by the Holy Spirit.

One is a book, the other is the Word of God.

One is written by an Apostle, the other is written by a Pastor.

Interesting there is no letter by Timothy in the Canon of Scripture, but there is a letter to Pastor Timothy by the Apostle Paul by the Holy Spirit, and in this: the Word of God, by the Holy Spirit, informs us of the AUTHORITY of the Scriptures.

'All Scripture is God breathed...'

Event the garbage I just put on this thread is inadequetly simple and complexly overindulgent.

Might I use one word to describe this verse to follow that it is simply and complexly perfectly balanced, perfectly expressi ng what I am attempting to do and failing pitifully.

This verse perfectly and profoundly encapsulates, my reverie, and yet more than encapsulates; gives divine breath, havi ng originated before I even had thoughts: PROFOUND!!!

'All scripture is given by inspiration of GOD, and it profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in right eousness: that the man of GOD may be perfect, throughly furnished unto all good works.'

In Jesus,
Aeryck

Sorry to be nitpicking but I do not believe that there is any letter written to Pastor Timothy in the NT.
