ENGLAND STREET WORK - posted by JGB321, on: 2006/10/12 17:50

Hi there,

Would love to hear from others who are in the UK and do regular street preaching/witnessing one-on-one.

Our little flock go out often and meet every type of person, but too few Christians are anywhere to be seen.

Where are all the Len Ravehill's??

Hi, and welcome, I'll guess by your sig, after looking at your website that it's James I'm corresponding with?

It's good to hear there is another street preasher out there, and your dad too.

If I had heard from you earlier I would have told you about this year's street preacher conference last August, in Cardiff, the thread is here...

It will be on again next year, we'll keep you posted.

In the meantime, I've looked at the photo gallery on your website (recommended viewing to those reading this), You get a bout don't you? Bolton, Liverpool and Blackpool, that's where we are, up north. It would be great if you contact me next time you are due up here, we may be able to go with you.

About ourselves, Me, my brother Mat (SavedMat) and his wife Mirriam go out each week into the local market town of Ormskirk to preach and give out tracts, we've been doing this for 18 months. Our mother Ruth has had a market stall through all weathers for nearly 25 years and sells (Good) Christian books and KJV bibles, as well as giving out tracts and CD's of sermons or the gospel.

It would be wonderful to meet up with you all some time, and we know others who witness in Wales, Manchester, Northern Ireland, Mansfield, all of whom would love to meet up and go out witnessing with preachers of the gospel.

Hope to hear more from you

It's very encouraging to know others are also pounding the streets of the UK, preaching the Gospel.
