

Welcome & Intro :: Hello, everyone!

Hello, everyone! - posted by Sarita (), on: 2007/4/9 8:43

What a blessing to have found this site. It is an answer to my prayer for a true fellowship of believers. As I look around I see so many hearts that are on fire for God.

I look forward to learning, to growing closer to my Lord, and to fellowshiping with my brothers and sisters.

Blessings to you all.

Welcome Sarita,

So good to have you. We look forward to getting to know you better as well. This is a great site to help you grow. Listen to the treasure-house full of sermons and be blessed.

I hope you will determine in your heart from the beginning to not be offended if you share your heart and not everybody agrees with you. It will happen, however it is a great opportunity to grow in love and forgiveness and to search out what you believe, and why you believe it, in scripture.

I believe it has really caused me to dig deeper. I hope it does the same for you.

You will also find a group of people who will pray with you, and share with you, if you are seeking an understanding of scripture on some point you aren't clear on.

All in all, as you said, this is a great fellowship of believers. Be blessed.

Again so nice to have you.

:~)

Hey, Sarah!

I'm in So. Cal. too. Anza, in the mountains between Temecula, and Palm Springs!

Where are you? We might be close enough to chat occasionally!

But if not, this site is a great place for Godstuff, talking Godstuff, and making friends.

Welcome, with many blessings!
