

SermonIndex Support :: downloading multiple sermons

downloading multiple sermons - posted by cmac, on: 2007/7/15 7:15

Hey There,

I have a problem, the thing is i want to download all of zac poonens messages, however there are 32 pages full of them, so i was wondering if there was anyway of download all of them, without clicking every single message separately, thank s

Re: downloading multiple sermons - posted by Tears_of_joy, on: 2007/7/15 10:07

Hi cmac, no, such option is not available, you must go one by one. But you can use some download manager, so you can put first all messages one by one on the queue, and then you can download them at once. In any case, you will need to put some efforts.

Re: - posted by deltadom (), on: 2007/7/15 11:54

this would be a useful feature

all it would take would be able to put the sermons in a folder and then download them as one.

Re: - posted by Warrior4Jah (), on: 2007/8/9 19:46

I agree that it would be a useful feature, however this might increase bandwidth costs for the website.

If I speak for myself, I would need to suppress the urge to download all sermons from various speakers only to find out that I won't listen to all of them or only after quite some time.

Re: downloading multiple sermons - posted by jordanamo, on: 2007/8/9 20:51

I recommend listening to a Poonen sermon or something, and while listening, download his sermons. That's what I did when I downloaded all of Art Katz' sermons.