Anyone have any good suggestions of good systematic theology resources?

Poke around in here, and you're sure to find something.

You can't really go wrong with Hodge or Berkhof.

Why not read the Scriptures and allow God to teach you His ways according to His covenant...His system is perfect.

Heb. 8:3 For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices. Therefore it is necessary that this One also have something to offer.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put My laws in their mind and write them on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people. 11 None of them shall teach his neighbor, and none his brother, saying, "Know the LORD," for all shall know Me, from the least of them to the greatest of them. 12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their lawless deeds I will remember no more."

The promise of the new covenant is that the Lord through the Holy Spirit will teach those who are willing to listen...and then do.

Place your faith in the word of God and not man's interpretations...

God Bless
Jeff

I agree with the above post, don't try to go out and master the word of God, let it master you.

However, I also recommend Finney's systematic theology.
