

Welcome & Intro :: outer hebrides calling*outer hebrides calling - posted by etzel, on: 2007/10/8 13:32

hi all, i live on a small island on the northwest coast of bonnie scotland, called the "isle of lewis". blessings to one and all

Re: outer hebrides calling - posted by dohzman (), on: 2007/10/8 13:45

Welcome! I've read some about the revivals there and have heard some also, so what's the climate for Jesus like there now? I trust another awakening before the end of this age.

Re: outer hebrides calling, on: 2007/10/8 14:07

Welcome,

Some of my mother's folks were from there, but I've not been yet... I'll be interested to hear your answer to dohzman's question.

May you be blessed and encouraged here on SI, whatever the weather is doing to your gorgeous silver beaches and seaweed-eating sheep. ;-)

Re: - posted by etzel, on: 2007/10/8 14:41

hi dohzman,yeah the lewis revivals are well known, the climate today has slipped a lot,we now have a couple of shops and pubs open on sunday, church attendance is still quite high, we now have a baptist church on the island, we are greatly blessed with good preaching in all our church's.

Re: - posted by etzel, on: 2007/10/8 14:46

hi dorcas, thanks for the welcome, hope you manage to visit and worship with us some day, where are you based? God bless

Re: outer hebrides calling - posted by MSeaman (), on: 2007/10/8 15:58

Welcome to SI! Hope you are very blessed by what you find here! :)

Re: - posted by etzel, on: 2007/10/8 16:12

hi msea, thanks for the welcome. God bless

Re: - posted by dohzman (), on: 2007/10/8 19:46

Glad to hear that about the preaching and church attendance. It seems that this generation in America and the current culture doesn't view history as relevant for the current path. I hope the corruption that's in the American church doesn't reach the isles there. We should touch heaven concerning another great awakening there so you can send that move out to a dying world around you. God Bless, Bro. Daryl