Saints,

I am excited to announce the launch of these 3 new sites. God put this burden on my heart to get simple evangelism/discipleship sites out there. The content for all 3 sites right now is the same but in the future, I might make the watchgospel site more focused towards video and the truegospelmessage site more towards foreign translations.

Some of the links to the video section are not working and are in the process of being uploaded. Do share the word about these sites and give any feedback.

Any comments on these sites brethren?

This is REALLY good! Clear, straight forward, thorough - we must pray that many are led to this site!

Greg,

When I saw that the Brother Zac Poonen's teachings were being presented my spirit soared.

What a great idea! Oh, how I wish I had something as this 30 years ago as a new Christian. His teachings never cease to instruct and amaze me.

Wonderful!

Thanks, Greg! ( and thanks to Brother Zac!)

Wayne

I think they are great, A suggestion would be if you would make some banners as for the "featured" sermon or just something for people to help spread the sites on their own web pages.

Haven't had a chance to look these over yet, but I am excited to get home tonight and thoroughly go through these. :-)

Great suggestion dear brother, I want to setup a "share" link where I can put info and resources to help share the websites with others.

I have put the sites on the bottom of SermonIndex and also on the sponsor list, I really think God is going to use these for His glory to bring many into the kingdom of God.

God uses the "simple" and "foolish" !

It's nice to have a website to give to people you meet, but for some reason aren't able to speak with, so I'm excited. It could also be something that those who hand out tracts refer to at the end so those interested in knowing more can be on the internet. I think many people who would never call on the phone to learn more about Jesus would look at a website in depth if given one.

Well done. Many are intimidated by websites and computers in general. The simple style is refreshing and very appealing.

No lights.
No sirens.
No bells.
No whistles.

Just the gospel...

the way it should be...

simple.

I like it.

Saints,

I am working on getting the video up to all the sites, ie youtube, godtube, etc.. any other recommendations on places to get them up on? vimeo?

I have the videos working on all 3 sites now. And there have been a few small corrections made to all of them.
