Saints,

Please watch this video on the Chinese revival. What a contrast to these healing revivals that are spurious in America:

Brothers,

I cannot stop crying, not so much for the beauty of such people worshipping and glorifying the lord Jesu as they are under serious scrutiny and persecution, but because I LACK, I LACK brothers, WE LACK, WE LACK brother, and it is so hard to accept that I and We LACK so badly,

For even as the Great Apostle stated, We have not yet resisted unto blood, paraphrased, We have not allowed ourselves to be placed into harms way.....

I got nothing else to say about this.

Bye for now Brethren

These are the Cross in China dvd's. I think a few people who visit this website have them.

They were from a few years ago, and one hopes that the revival is still continuing.

As it is, we know China is hosting the Olympics this year, giving the opportunity for the gospel to be taken back to other nations by those who get saved visiting China.

The potential is great.

Their revival is prayer based, which is why it has continued.

Don't we get it yet?

I have watched this series several times, and it is worth the time to download. Here is the full series:

Indeed, this video is from "The Cross" video. It is one of the most profound tapes I have ever seen. I recall one brother who had been locked in jail for 20 years and refused to deny the faith. Then, all of a sudden, they let him out and marked him down as somebody who had. But to deny the false accusation that he had recanted, the brother moved into a small hut/apartment just outside the jail walls, and fasted five days a week for 15 years to prove he had not recanted. He went home to be with the Lord shortly after giving this testimony on the tape.

For e and others who pray for revival.

Here are words that cry from the heart: "I will never forget what is said in the Bible, 'And the curtain of the temple was torn in two.' He did not do it for Himself."

Can't stop the tears of gratitude
Can't stop the words from deep within
Hands marked with imprints of the nails
Open the doors long shut
A voice of tenderness
Takes our hearts away

We know this is a path to the Cross
A painful path with violent storms
But the loving hands of the Lord
Holding our hands all the time
There is no reason not to follow out Lord Jesus

A heart cry of revival: He did not do it for Himself.

Can't stop the tears of gratitude
Can't stop the words from deep within
Open the doors long shut

This website keeps breaking me...not the website but the ministry of the Holy Spirit through this website.

My, my, the cry of the dear brother prior to this message of the lack we possess. I certainly am poor, miserable and wretched and must buy from Him that which costs no money, buy from Him robes, and eye salve and healing balm.

O Lord, whatever the cost, whatever the price...

What's amazing is the sheer number of believers in China. They went from about 500,000 believers nearly 50 years ago, to 50 MILLION today. A 100 fold harvest! Absolutely amazing. What's more interesting, though not recorded on the Cross DVD, is that Chinese Christians are going out into the world to do the work of missions. I've heard reports of Chinese missionaries in Israel!

Also what is very interesting is the Pentecostal/Charismatic makeup of the Chinese church. They are a church of miracles, signs, wonders, and great power. The little word of God they are able to obtain is applied radically across the board.

They know little to nothing of the cessation of the gifts of the Spirit. They see themselves as a continuation of the book of Acts.

A must watch video

Re: - posted by Ruach34 (), on: 2008/6/13 14:53

There is a significant movement and vision of the chinese christian leaders to take the gospel to all of Asia and back to Jerusalem. Check out the site:

(www.backtojerusalem.com/) Back to Jerusalem

It seems they are willing to cast themselves in the midst of wolves, with no thought for their lives and bring the glorious gospel to India, Iran, Iraq even to Israel and Jerusalem. Wouldn't it be awesome and possibly a fulfillment of what Paul wrote in Romans in provoking the Jews to jealousy. Who else could provoke in this manner than an insignificant chinese man, filled with the Holy Spirit.

But, who am I? Just welcoming some thought here.

Yeah I remember reading "The Heavenly Man" and hearing Brother Yun talking about it...sounds really really amazing. The response to our brothers and sisters will be interesting.

Amen, thanks for sharing this. This is exactly what I believe we need in America---major persecution, then we will see revival and the true church will rise up while the rest of those who profess to be christians but really are not will fall away.

You don't have to guess who is a christian and who is not in ,China. You either are or you aren't according to your public profession.

May God bring His purifying fire in America!

Re: - posted by Ruach34 (), on: 2008/6/13 17:06

I also agree, Rebecca. There are purported stories that the chinese believers pray for us in this manner. Not so we can get a taste of what they are going through, but rather they have seen the blessedness of such persecution and that it is, in fact, the way of the Cross of Christ.

Can anyone here reading this post look at a fellow american, where freedom has reigned for 200 plus years, and put your throat to the knife, so to speak? I have asked myself that question and will continue to. Can we stand in the fire of a kind of persecution that wife, husband, or child may have denied Christ? And now it's our turn to answer? What will that day look like and when will it come upon us.

This day will come shortly and it may be hand-in-hand with this homosexual movement. Will we, in the face of an angry mob (much like righteous Lot), keep our stance and say their lifestyles are a sin and abomination to the Lord?

Hefty, huh?, but it may come...any thoughts on this?

Whilst on the subject of China I read a book recently that I found in an old second hand bookshop. The book is by an English missionary called Archibald Glover, the copy I bought is an old copy from the 1940's but I surprised to see that it is still in print. This amazes me since this book should be on the front shelf at every christian bookshop and instead they promote prosperity rubbish. The book is written by A. E. Glover, and is called 'A thousand miles of miracle in China', if you can get a copy then definitely read it!! This testimony absolutely defies belief and will really cause you to think about your own dedication. Archibald Glover was a missionary in China at the turn of the last century, in 1900 he was present in China during the 'Boxer Rebellion'. The only way I can describe his story is this, imagine you went with your wife/husband and 2 small children to Iraq or Afghanistan, imagine the daily threat of death you would endure there and then you will catch a glimpse of what this man endured in China. It is amazing to see this video and goes to show that the trials of such amazing men were not in vain! PRAISE GOD!!!

Amen, notice how they glow and smile especially when they talk about their own persecution----not out of pride but because they were able to partake of the same sufferings of Christ. They spoke about how Jesus, died and it's like they were right there with Him!

Full of mercy and love for their persecutors in the midst of their suffering to the point of shedding real tears. Also, like you said, they pray for us that we can experience the same thing they also have because they see it as a wonderful gift from God.

Re: - posted by death2self (), on: 2008/6/13 22:45

If you've not seen this video, I would strongly recommend it.

The second generation Christians (after Watchman Nee's generation) that are on one of the CDs were my favorite. They were told that they would be raptured and wouldn't experience persecution. They rarely had access to a Bible and yet Jesus was faithful to pull these men through the fire.

The thing that convicted me and encouraged me at the same time was the lack of bitterness and anger. Their love was genuine and palpable.

The dear brother that KingJimmy referenced was Ephraim (the spelling is wrong) and I watched him many times. There's one amazing scene where the glory of God was on this man and the editors didn't really know what to do. This man was a total nobody but so full of Jesus.

The video is a testament of what God can do to those who are yielded to Him. Brother Alan's wife was an encouragement because the Lord carried during her husband's imprisonments and He was faithful.

If Jesus carried these dear ones, He will carry you and me if we yield to Him. What a wonderful testimony of the faithfulness of Jesus. He will be with us in the midst of the fire and as the fires come to America and around the world, Jesus will carry.

Please encourage these dear ones who made this video. The last I heard they were renting a small dental office in Los Angeles...

This totally blessed me. May God wake us up in america and save us from this self centered we have going on over here. The reason I say that is not to be harsh but I noticed that these people are knit together by the Spirit of God, consumed by God and have the sweet aroma of Christ coming out of their lives. They had all things common. seems like here in the states things are more like the laodicean church when they cried "we have increased in goods and have need of nothing" Then sometimes I hear folks say wow where's the power of revival well we have traded it for goods to feed our greed. lets all pray for the church in america I believe God still has a remnant a people still sold out to him may he raise them up. This was a great post thanks

amazing...I'm speechless

Re: - posted by bonni (), on: 2008/6/13 23:36

Wow! Hopefully the church in China is praying for us here in the USA, Canada, parts of Europe, and all countries where the church is in a laodicean state.

I thought it noteworthy that they do not have the attitude towards their government that it should be their "right" to be a Christian, but consider it a privilege to be a believer and a duty to take up their cross, pray for their country, their government, and present themselves as living sacrifices. They truly have the mark of a repentant sinner...gratitude, amazing gratitude that exudes from their souls, the fragrance of Christ.

Lord Jesus have mercy on us!

sincerely, bonni
