FEATURE: more avatars. - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2004/7/16 23:21

I have been adding more avatars to the selection. I think there quite a few unappropriate ones definetly. I am wondering what people think about the current ones. I could plausibly add 100-200 more newer christian type ones like the examples below and in the bottom of the avatar selection. Please let me know what you think SI users.

*To see the rest if you are logged in go to you 'View Account' and then select the 'Edit Profile' button and then choose the link called 'XOOOPS' which will open the new window and the new avatars are at the bottom.

I noticed some people already have made use of the new avatars, what are your thoughts on this, should the old ones be done away with and archived so people that want to use them can still upload them as a avatar?

Avatar? :)

(I do know what they are, just being funny)

Hi Mrs Fred and others, I have been able to get a whole new set of avatars up, I have still a few more to go. I have replaced this new set with the old set of more comic like avatars, if you still want to maintain your old avatar please take the steps outlined below.

step 1) Find your avatar below right click on it and save target as to your desktop of your computer.

step 2) Log in to sermonindex and then click on the 'View Account' link on the top left.

step 3) Then Click on the 'Upload my avatar' button. and then simply choose the 'browse' button and locate the image you saved to your computer desktop and press ok to confirm. And that should get your avatar image back in place.

*If you have any problems at all please let me know. ;-) I hope everyone enjoys the new selection.

Sorry brother I didn't clarify well enough those are the old ones.. trust me im shuddering also.. hehe the newer ones are much more of a vintage and quality selection. You can access them in your account settings.. take a look. ;-)

Re: - posted by KeithLaMothe, on: 2004/7/17 17:02

I think it's the pokemon (and other cartoonish ones) that have been removed, and other (more appropriate, I think) ones added.

Great job, brother Greg, the new ones look great.

edit- just beat me to the post :)

An extremely interesting mythopoeic device ;)

Oh, and those little pictures I keep seeing around here.

For all those simple souls on the forums heres abit of help:

myth-<sup>o</sup>-poe-ic or myth-<sup>o</sup>-pe-ic ( P ) Pronunciation Key (mth-pk) also myth-<sup>o</sup>-po-et-ic (-p-tk) adj.

Of or relating to the making of myths.

Serving to create or engender myths; productive in mythmaking.
