

News and Current Events :: Suspicious Fire hits Palin's church in Alaska

Suspicious Fire hits Palin's church in Alaska - posted by White_Stone (), on: 2008/12/14 15:48

<http://www.cnn.com/2008/CRIME/12/13/palin.church/index.html>

(CNN) -- A "suspicious" fire devastated the church attended by Alaska Gov. and former vice presidential candidate Sarah Palin on Friday night in her hometown of Wasilla, the church's minister said.

Officials are considering arson in fire that broke out Friday at the Wasilla Bible Church in Wasilla, Alaska.

<http://wasillabible.org/> Church Website

Is this a direct result of the Presidential Campaign? Persecution?

Re: Suspicious Fire hits Palin's church in Alaska - posted by Compton (), on: 2008/12/14 19:41

Thank you White_Stone. We'll be sure to pray for these brothers and sisters.

MC

Re: - posted by fuehrerbe21 (), on: 2008/12/14 21:35

white stone,

i must say, i am impressed at your ability to keep up with various events that take place that are in some way pertinent to the Church and are relevant to the Christian faith. do you have a method or specific sites you frequent?

-Ben