

Welcome & Intro :: Grace & Peace to you all

As a newcomer I am reluctant to say much in response for two reasons; 1) I have much to learn from an apologetics perspective, and 2) I will do more listening (reading) and learning to ensure that I meet the requirements of the forum. These are some great guidelines that I'm half tempted to plagiarize for business use. Besides I learn more by reading and listening than engaging in dialog. When I'm more comfortable in the forum, I look forward to spurring discussion by sharing through confessional posts on my personal short-comings that I would like help with.

God bless you all,

Danny
