Hey, I'm new here, well, from a few months ago, but haven't posted in a while.
Anyway, I lead a support group at my church for people with Life Controlling problems.

Our group is wanting to take our ministry outside the four walls of our church (which we should) and minister to the lost.

Does anyone know of any websites or such that would provide any information regarding street ministry?

I've done a few searches but didn't really come up with much, but I'll keep trying.

Just thought someone here may know of a great site that would provide some info and such.

Thanks and God Bless!

Mark :-)

Hi Mark,
On this site there are many words and phrases that get lost in translation especially between the old country (Us British) and the colonials :-) So with that in mind could you explain what "life controlling problems" are thanks

Sure!

Alcoholics, Drug Addicts(prescription or illegal), Pornography, Nicotine Addiction, un-controlled anger...etc...although some in our group were not "addicts" per say...but just used to live a life of sin....drinking and partying and such. We are a group of Spirit Filled Christians who believe we can live completely free from these bondages.

www.livingwaters.com is a great resource for street ministry.

www.wayofthemaster.com is great as well.

I also have my own site on street preaching www.newenglandoutreach.com . It has audio, articals, etc
