

News and Current Events :: Obama signs gay hate crimes measure

Obama signs gay hate crimes measure - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2009/10/30 6:07

Obama signs gay hate crimes measure

The homosexual movement gained a barrier-breaking victory Oct. 28 when President Obama signed into law a measure extending hate-crimes protections to homosexuals and transgender people.

The president's signature on the 2010 National Defense Authorization Act put into effect not only an annual bill for the U. S. military but enshrined into federal law the most significant legislative advance to date for homosexual activists. The Human Rights Campaign, America's largest homosexual organization, had described the measure as the country's "first major piece of civil rights legislation for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people."

Obama reserved his remarks at the White House signing ceremony primarily for the focus of the bill, the Department of Defense's reauthorization. He commented only at the end on the hate-crimes provision. The president called that portion of the legislation a ...

read more: <http://baptistpress.com/BPnews.asp?ID=31569>

Re: Obama signs gay hate crimes measure, on: 2009/10/30 7:57

I'll still preach against sin no matter what the sin may be.

Who will dare to join me?

Paul and Silas had wonderful worship services in jail!

Krispy

Re: , on: 2009/10/30 7:59

Keep a cot warm for me if you get there first.

Re: - posted by IWantAnguish (), on: 2009/10/30 9:00

No weapon formed against us shall prosper.

Let truth go forth in unction and anointing by the Holy Spirit.

May God be glorified through suffering.

Re: , on: 2009/10/30 10:13

Just watched a report on CBN about Norwich, England. A grandmother wrote a letter to the city council objecting to the Gay pride parade that had gone through the down town. Result? She was investigated for a possible hate crime.

This will continue to grow in America. Now here the question that has been posed before on SI.

Will you be the christian that says, 'oh this has to be just let it be' Or will you be the christian who says "we can have a revival in America that will turn this tide for this generation?????"

This message by J. Edwin Orr about role of prayer in revival. He speaks about America after the revolution. This conveys to me HOPE for the American people for our children.

<https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/myvideo/photo.php?lid=799>

Re: - posted by Laviver, on: 2009/10/30 11:09

I realize you're just direct quoting the source article, but I try to refrain from using the word gay. It's a distortion of the truth, a ploy of Satan to make sin sound more tasteful, fun, and lighthearted. There is nothing gay about homosexuality. It is a gross abomination for which there is no room in the kingdom of God.

Re: - posted by IWantAnguish (), on: 2009/10/30 11:11

Dirty filthy abominable SODOMITE would be correct vocabulary in dealing with this particular sin.

Re: Obama signs gay hate crimes measure - posted by AbideinHim (), on: 2009/10/30 11:53

The time is coming when Christians will be persecuted if not arrested for preaching the truth concerning homosexuality.

Many will compromise on this issue to avoid the persecution, but a remnant will preach all of the council of God. The truth will be preached in love.

Mike

Re: krispy - posted by Lysa (), on: 2009/10/30 12:19

Quote:

-----KrispyKrittr wrote:

Paul and Silas had wonderful worship services in jail!

Krispy

They were in there for casting out demons weren't they? I'm with you on that!!
8-)

Re: Obama signs gay hate crimes measure - posted by narrowpath, on: 2009/10/30 13:50

This is shocking but the bible clearly prophesied that that sin and depravity will take its course. Preaching the truth will cost us more and more and right so. Let us be prepared and see if we can snatch some of those perishing soul from the fire of judgement not fearing our own safety. Let us not pity ourselves but have mercy on those outside the kingdom. Let us be the voice that boldly heralds the bridegrooms coming.

Re: My command is love each other..., on: 2009/10/30 14:46

Instead of name calling . Let us speak the truth in love . Love always protects . So we need to call sin sin . The bible calls it homosexuality and the scripture tells us it will send us to hell . The bible also tells us that liars, thieves , drunkards and murderers. All of these sins will send us to hell . Our job is to tell people that and introduce them to Jesus . Jesus told the adulterous woman neither do I go and sin no more . With love. In his service . Devin .

Re: We are about there Bro's and Sisters in the Lord - posted by Blunt, on: 2009/10/30 15:01

I heard this from a pastor a few days ago.

A short while ago a gentlemen went into down town Tampa Bay and did what he usually did by just passing out tracts. The police arrested him and the state of Florida prosecuted him. The judge laughed at the case and threw it out as nonsense.....The state attorney appealed it 3 times and each time the judge threw it out.

At first it will just be intimidation, then they will seek to make examples, and then they will be bringing the paddywagons to sunday morning services. I guess soon we all will find out who will be preaching the Word. Finally being in the ministry will again be a sacrifice in America.

:o

Re: , on: 2009/10/30 15:11

dmoney, I think I see your point. I would agree that when we speak the truth to homosexuals it should be done with as much care as possible.

However the truth must be spoken. Words like gay or homosexual do tend to soften the view of the sin.

I have ministered several times to homosexuals also preaching and witnessing very near what's known as a "gay bar" so when I say we should speak pointedly, calling it what it is; I speak from some experience.

Just to clarify, the bible never calls it homosexuality.

Deuteronomy 23:17 There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel.

1 Kings 14:24 And there were also sodomites in the land: and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the LORD cast out before the children of Israel.

1 Kings 15:12 And he took away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols that his fathers had made.

1 Kings 22:46 And the remnant of the sodomites, which remained in the days of his father Asa, he took out of the land.

2 Kings 23:7 And he brake down the houses of the sodomites, that were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove hangings for the grove.

And of course Paul's references in Romans as well as Corinthians etc.

Re: - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2009/10/30 15:41

I may be wrong, so correct me if I am..

In the past the president may sign a bill into law, but it will not become effective until it has passed the Supreme Court test. For example, President Bush signed a bill outlawing partial birth abortion but did it ever go in effect? No.

If I am right, I fully expect this to become lucrative fodder for some lawyers who will get to exercise their expertise in the courtrooms. And you may well expect to get calls from firms who will promise that with your money they will fight it out in the courts.

This is the American way, like it or not...now if I can only go find a large enough rock to hide under.... :-o

ginnyrose

reply - posted by anonymity, on: 2009/10/30 16:03

Does anyone have an educated opinion on this bill?

I mean I think I heard that the bill does not say you can't speak against sins, but that you can't speak in such a way that will cause someone to inflict physical harm.

And, that this bill does not actually say you cannot speak, but that it may be a stepping stone towards that.

It may just be Obama trying to protect homosexuals from being stoned.

As for the physical harm thing I think there may be the possibility that anything being said negatively can somehow though falsely be tied to some other person harming individuals then causing us to be told not to speak.

Also, many say they will speak either way, but is there not an area for wisdom.

And, maybe people from other countries have seen the same type of bill and the affects and can share.

???

Re: reply, on: 2009/10/30 16:17

"And, that this bill does not actually say you cannot speak, but that it may be a stepping stone towards that. "

Yes, the whole emphasis over the past several years is stamp out "HATE" thats the hypnotic mantra that they, GLTB as well as Hollywood has been pushing for many years now. This is incremental. A news story I saw the other day the GLTB response was that this is another step in total EQUALITY. This means that if their lifestyle is equal and protected by the full force of the FED then you cannot speak against it.

Go on CBN and watch the story for Friday 10/30 about Norwich, England. An elderly lady christian wrote a letter to the city council protesting them allowing the Gay pride parade to march down main street. The police show up at her door to investigate her for possible hate crime.

<http://www.cbn.com/cbnnews/world/2009/October/UK-Christian-Target-of-Hate-Crimes-Law/>

Re: Obama signs gay hate crimes measure - posted by Lysa (), on: 2009/10/31 3:33

I've read all these posts and just wanted to ask a couple questions...

Everyone here seems more than willing to go to jail to tell a homosexual "the truth" ... ooh rah!

*The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us—ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

2 Peter 3:9

Here's my question... Are you just as willing to afflict your soul for them in prayer? Isaiah 58.5, 6, 7

Thank you for listening. God bless us all!

Re: - posted by IWantAnguish (), on: 2009/10/31 9:32

Honestly, my flesh would rather just keep quiet and let them all burn in hell.

Sodomy is disgusting, the average sodomite has over 300 different sexual partners a year.

It would be a work of grace to be given a burden for their souls from God.

Re: - posted by ginnyrose (), on: 2009/10/31 10:28

Quote:

-----Sodomy is disgusting, the average sodomite has over 300 different sexual partners a year.

I haven't clue about the accuracy of this stat, but if it is true I would guess nature will/may rid the country of this perversion if left to themselves via disease. To make things legally easy for this perversion to be exercised seems almost like a backhanded way to kill these people. And they think they are doing them a favor! SIGH. SIGH!!

Romans 1:21-26 seems to come into play here. I do wonder how possible it is for these to actually repent? One case in point: my second cousin died from AIDS and his lover was so angry that he declared he was going to infect as many others as he can! (And I never heard this cousin repented from sin before he died.) Reckon the law will arrest one for having a mindset like this?

ginnyrose

Re: , on: 2009/10/31 10:46

I want anguish, I say this with kindness towards you. I understand your disgust and agree with the disgust. They also want to continually come into the schools and teach this to our children.

HOWEVER....these are still people that the Lord is not willing to see perish but to come to repentance. Perhaps if you look up on CBN or someplace else testimonies of former gays and lesbians who have now come to Christ. Maybe in doing this; it will soften you a bit on this and have more hope for them. Then you may just have more true, Godly, anguish for them.

Again I say this in meekness towards you.

Re: IWantAnguish - posted by Lysa (), on: 2009/10/31 11:03

Quote:

-----IWantAnguish wrote:

Honestly, my flesh would rather just keep quiet and let them all burn in hell.

This is what I'm trying to get at: our personal feelings towards someone else's sin.

The gospel is NOT about personal feelings towards someone's sin; yours or mine; pro or con.

Isn't it about Isaiah 58.6...loosing the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that (we) break every yoke for someone?

I love you brother (& all the other posters) and that's why I'm putting this question forth; Why in the world are we even on this earth if it's not to do the works that Jesus did for those in bondage (regardless of our personal feelings)?

Re: Salvation, on: 2009/11/1 1:15

The words you are choosing are accusatory and will surely put the person on the defensive. Whether the word is sodomy or homosexuality really does not matter. The point is that the person you are talking to, receives what you are saying and that it produces Godly sorrow. If that happens it will bring about receiving Jesus as Lord and savior. After that we should see fruit in keeping with repentance. Only after salvation will anyone stop sinning. If you came at me telling me I was a thief or a liar I would never receive Jesus. It is the goodness of God that draws us to repentance. I have walked out of meetings where they were calling people fags from the pulpit. I did it to make a statement. Love is not rude. Disobeying the command of God is wrong which command. Let us use the Jesus style of ministry. Heal the sick, raise the dead and preach the kingdom of heaven is near. Let us let God's power confirm our words !!!

Re: - posted by kathleen1 (), on: 2009/11/1 13:26

With all the contempt in some of the responses here for this sin, we must understand sin is sin. God describes in Isa 64 a person's self righteousness as filthy rags-look it up and it means a used menstruous cloth. That is pretty disgusting.

As far as enduring persecution, and jail for being willing to speak the truth-I have a question. If we aren't living the cross, denying ourselves and letting Him live in and through us now, what makes us think we can endure the persecution coming? If we can't love homosexuals, and overcome our disgust, what qualifies us to accurately represent God? We must be yielded vessels-and pray for the Holy Ghost to shed in our hearts the love of God, as Scriptures says He will do. He must love others through us for His kind of love is not something we can reproduce-but we can contain and pour out to others as HE pours it in us. If we can't have compassion on these folks bound by this sin of homosexuality, we've forgotten how deep we were in darkness, how depraved our own hearts were and how sinful we were until He who loved us while we were yet sinners died for us. Can we fast and pray and deny ourselves for their deliverance? If not we are not very much like Him.

Re: preach sis, on: 2009/11/1 23:07

AMEN!!!

Re: Graise, on: 2009/11/1 23:11

Are you going to deny Jesus the fruit of his suffering.

Re: Graise, on: 2009/11/1 23:14

Are you going to deny Jesus the fruit of his suffering. Thanksgivingabove

Re: - posted by IWantAnguish (), on: 2009/11/2 1:01

It really doesn't matter what language you use to speak to a dead individual.

People are born spiritually dead...

If we were to approach Lazarus and say, Hey dummy, get up. You wanna stay dead all your life?

Or, if we were to say, Dear brother, I love you so much, please stop being dead.

It really makes no difference, salvation is a sovereign work of God. Don't care / Doesn't matter whether you're Arminian or Calvinist.

A dead sodomite, homosexual, fornicator, etc. will remain dead unless the Spirit of God moves to save them.

The only reason one would use sodomite-friendly terminology would be to be less offensive... Seems to directly counter Scripture that says the gospel is a scandal...foolishness to those that perish.

Yes, the heart must be right in those that witness (through the grace of God), but don't lower the bar on the sinfulness of sin.

Sodomy is sodomy, just as murder is murder, don't care how many times the President calls it abortion, he's playing with language to reshape reality to his own belief.

Re: How about this reason . Obeying God's command. , on: 2009/11/3 21:26

you said

The only reason one would use sodomite-friendly terminology would be to be less offensive... Seems to directly counter Scripture that says the gospel is a scandal...foolishness to those that perish." Love is not rude. :-D

Re: - posted by IWantAnguish (), on: 2009/11/4 0:29

Please don't confuse cowardice with love.