

SermonIndex Announcements :: Old Paths Magazine now in print (beta!)Old Paths Magazine now in print (beta!) - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2009/12/24 8:56

Saints,

I am trying to offer the Old Paths Magazine in print form so people can buy it to receive it in actual physical print form. The price will be $2.40 + shipping. I felt that is very reasonable and SermonIndex.net does not get "1 cent" from the sales of these magazines. It is simply a service offering to the body of Christ.

The first issue has been released for ordering and its on special right now because of the holiday season for $1.80

Old Paths - Issue 1

<http://magcloud.com/browse/Issue/5564>

Note: I am still working through formatting for the magazine and it might be off in some places, so buy at your own risk. but if you buy it do give feedback and report any errors, and quality on it. Thanks for helping with the beta version saints!

If a few saints could order this and give feedback on the quality and design. I would love to go forward with this fully for the old paths as a way to offer it to the larger body of Christ.

Hey brother - Just received mine in the mail. Nice quality. You will have to adjust your margins in about .25 or .5 for the next submission though as you are right on the edge. :)

Quality paper, quality printing, especially considering the amount of photos you have included in there.

Brother,

thank you for the feedback. I will be making this change for this issue and also the ones to come! thank you. One brother told me the one margin is ok but the others need to be changed.

ie the inside margin on every page is ok. Can you confirm that or does it need to move a bit more also.

does the cover and the text of the cover work well or would the text need to be inset more?

Any more specific help and direction for me as I make final changes on this first issue to try and fix all the problems?
