

Welcome & Intro :: Sanctification*Sanctification - posted by blessedone (), on: 2010/1/8 16:56

Dear brothers and sisters in Jesus, this is my first post. This site is truly a well for the thirsty...but I do realize that admiring the water will not quench my thirst...my admiration must move to application. I have to permit the Holy Spirit to help me apply the tremendous truths to my life, moment by moment, or I am like the man who looks in a mirror then walks away, forgetting what he looks like.

I'm not a preacher but wish to share some poems I believe the Lord has given me. My dilemma, is a fear of promoting myself rather than Christ. I would very much appreciate enlightenment regarding this. It is a constant battle for me. I have a long way to go but I'm growing in grace by His grace.

SAVE THAT WHICH COMES FROM GOD...

Save that which comes from God
Within man's hidden heart
There is no splendour there
But that which God imparts

The need is great therefore
That He must cleanse us still
Purge with Christ's precious holy blood
And with His Spirit fill

Until adorned by grace
Reflecting the divine
Furbish by faith each rough cut stone
We are not ours but Thine

Humility bedecked
Reflecting Holy Fire
Each lustrous gem a splendour bright
Desiring to rise higher

Fraught with the peace of God
For Christ we shall endure
Hidden behind His glory...veiled
Effulgently obscure

The table now is set
The feast already spread
He waits as we until the time
The Revelation's read

Save that which comes from God
There is no splendour there
Dare we approach His Holy Throne
Without repentant prayer?

Dear nasekom,

Just a note to say 'thankyou' for your warm welcome to Sermon Index. Feeling my way pretty much in the site as a beginner but I am awed and delighted having found the site 'by accident.'

Every blessing in Jesus

Raymond
