Prayer request for my nephew... - posted by ccchhhrrriiisss (), on: 2010/2/22 16:50

Hello...

Please pray for my nephew, Judah. He is less than two years old and is in a hospital in Texas. An initial test stated that he has a high white blood cell count. The doctors aren't certain what has caused this.

Please remember little Judah and his family in your prayers.

I will be praying for Judah and your family. I know its so hard when little ones get sick because they can't always tell us what is wrong. I have many little nieces and nephews too. Trust in the Lord.

with love in Him

Thank you for your continued prayers. The doctors will review the results of tests and speak with Judah's parents tomorrow. Please remember them all in your prayers.

Father, Please touch Little Judah and his Family.
In Jesus Name.

Thank you for your prayers.

Judah's count decreased to almost normal overnight! This amazed the doctors...because his cell count was extremely high. The doctors diagnosed Judah with pneumonia and sent him home. They prescribed some antibiotics and Tamiflu. He is home now...and eating well.

Again...thank you for your prayers. Please continue praying for him.

Praise the Lamb and His cleansing power! May He baffle man all the more with His healing power that they may repent and come to Him that can save the soul of a wretched sinner like me for the Glory of GOD!
