Others May, You Cannot - Tract Shared by Ravenhill - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2010/3/30 0:54

Saints,

Leonard Ravenhill shared this little tract with many people. And I have had the privilege of someone sending an actual copy that was given to them by Ravenhill. This tract has blessed me in a very deep way even recently and I pray it touches many others' lives for the glory of God.

The words of this tract have been posted several times here on SermonIndex and I have found them to be a tremendous blessing. They always seem to appear at just the right time.

It really touched my heart. Thank you brother Greg for sharing this. I pray that the Lord will make it true in my life.

I hope I'm not breaking any rules on advertising, but this tract, or something very similar, still seems to be available from the original publishers. Inflation has taken its toll, so they now cost $6.00 for one hundred, instead of $2.50, but still a bargain, compared to the value of the message.

Kind regards

Wow I am so upset I ordered the tract from tract league but there have been adjustments to the text that water it down and it unshareable to my friends they even took out the poem at the end!

sigh there goes $22

Would you rescan that in Black and White. I already captured the colors with my Corel program. This will make it easier to repaint. Love to try and restore it.

Thanks

That was pretty amazing, you don't get those kinds of tracts much anymore these days. I amended every paragraph as if for myself. Been there, still there, done that, still doing that.

I read this tract and wept for a long time, this tract was exactly what I needed to hear at just the right time. It honestly helped to clear up things that I've always questioned since I got saved, many things that to me didn't make sense, now they do.

After reading the tract I was praying and the Holy Spirit brought Joseph to mind, I know how he felt pre-Pharaoh days but the Lord carried him through to the end, as a thankful servant.

Thanks from the bottom of my heart!

I believe this tract has the answer of many who are trying to put their burdens on others when God is actually calling them to walk with those burdens alone if others will not come.

Oh to follow Christ fully no matter what the cost nor matter who comes with you! Follow Him.

I contacted Pilgrim Tract Society of Randleman, NC. They said, "Yes we have the tract 'Others May You Cannot' by G. D. Watson."

They have lots of good holiness tracts. They are very inexpensive and cheaply printed for distribution around the world. Here is the link to their website:

Thanks sir, it really stresses on a challenge I have to deal with...it's a blessing indeed.

Re: - posted by learjet, on: 2012/1/21 14:26

I made this tract into a pdf so that you folks could read it all in one whack. Additionally, I tried to get it working on Google Docs but it keeps formatting the thing to Google Docs format so that it's screwed up.

You can get the file here:

http://www.earllear.com/docs/Others_May_You_Cannot.pdf

Greg,

If you want you can download it and add it here, I had to use this link because I don't know of any other file sharing services (I have my own server so I don't have any use for them) feel free to download from there and upload it here and delete my post.

Just please share it with others, after reading it my life started to make sense. It's that good!

Hope this is a blessing, and peace to all of you!

This is a great tract. I have heard Paul Washer speak on this tract in regards to brother Ravenhill. I will definitely forward these words to my fellow brothers and sisters in Christ. Thank you.
