Sermon Series on Spiritual Warfare by Jim Logan - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2011/1/26 1:46

Brothers and Sisters,

I was blessed to run across this ministry that " Jim Logan" founded and shares thoughts biblically that set people free from long-seated bondages, unforgiveness, bitterness and spiritual warfare problems. I want to listen through this entire series myself and commend it to you:

Spiritual Warfare - 1 "The Battle" by Jim Logan

I thought I would bring this up again for those that have not had a chance to see this "new" series posted.

Wow, refreshingly good. Sounds like a down to earth man (love his laugh, funny jokes)... at the same time was in the scripture alot.. and read 500 to 600 books on the subject? Including One i just picked up and started (christian in complete armour). Already has given me new insight to what the scriptures say, and has slightly changed the way i am going to pray about things... and i have only listened to the first one.

Jesus is victor.

Thanks Greg for this brilliant set of sermons. I thoroughly enjoyed listening to them and was greatly blessed, encouraged and challenged by listening to them. I recommend them to you for your personal help and also if you seek to help others with spiritual problems.

I listened to the first one "The Battle." After listening to it I am sure it will evoke lots of controversy.

I copied a few quotes:

"When Satan fell from heaven, he fell into the choir loft."
(Logan goes on to discuss how the devil uses music to further his kingdom.)

"You are most like Satan if you are creature oriented."

"Pride produces contention."

"Pride produces shame."

"The LORD will destroy the house of the proud."

"Everyone who is proud is an abomination to the LORD."

Yes, sermon #1 is worth a second listen. Thanks, Greg, for posting this. I look forward to listening to the remaining talks.
