

General Topics :: America Under God's Judgment and How God Tried to Warn Us on 9/11

America Under God's Judgment and How God Tried to Warn Us on 9/11 - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/10 23:26

Is anyone here familiar with a study by a Messianic preacher named Jonathan Cahn of some very uncanny correspondences between Isaiah 9:10 and September 11th, 2001? I recently discovered it and found it irrefutable and important, so something we should take seriously.

I already recognized that 9/11 was a warning judgment from God and that America is clearly under God's judgment in many ways, the economic crashes of recent years being a big one. Cahn has found all this reflected in Isaiah 9:10. I've seen some YouTube videos of his talks and interviews on this subject, which are easy enough to find at YouTube -- the one that says "full version" is the talk to listen to to get the whole picture, though it's a few years old and he's added more to his revelations since then -- here's the link:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tXeioZb3dxM&feature=related>

There is also a series of interviews Jim Bakker did with him last month which is more up to date, though the interview wavers a lot and is a bit hard to listen to. However, they are selling a DVD that has a more recent talk he gave to a Messianic conference on it, that is probably the best thing to get. It probably won't get put on YouTube for free but maybe the DVD can be found for a decent price.

And I also finally got around to reading his book, titled "Harbinger." At first I was put off that he had written the book in novel form, with fictional characters going about revealing and discovering the meaning of 9/11 but it turns out it doesn't interfere as much as I was afraid it would and perhaps it even helped him to present the material in a paced way for easier digestion. Nevertheless, a very risky way to present a matter of scriptural truth.

I'll just sketch out the basics and if there's material for a thread here we can go from there.

Isaiah 9:10 occurs after God has brought a warning judgment against Israel in the form of a limited attack by Assyria. It's a statement of the attitude of the leaders:

"The bricks have fallen but we will rebuild with hewn stone; the sycamores have been cut down but we will plant cedars in their place."

The first correspondence between Israel and America is in the attitude. They are not recognizing God's hand in the attack, not recognizing it as God's judgment, but defiantly vowing to rebuild what has been destroyed, and replant the trees that were cut down.

This is the same attitude America had right after 9/11. Everybody was saying "God bless America" instead of recognizing that this was God's judgment and calling for repentance. The few who did recognize that were strongly criticized. A very few preachers knew it was judgment, but most were saying God wouldn't have done such a thing.

But not only America at large but America's leaders officially expressed this very attitude, and in two cases in the uncanny way of actually quoting Isaiah 9:10 in response to the attack on the WTC. Tom Daschle quoted it in his position as Senate Majority Leader the day after, as the nation's official response to the attack, thinking it was just a nice statement about rebuilding and not understanding that it is about God's judgment against the nation. Three years later John Edwards quoted the same passage with the same misunderstanding. Cahn sees this as official declaration of America's defiance of God as our response to 9/11 instead of the needed call to repentance, and therefore God is going to continue His judgment against the nation.

But there are some specifics in the verse that were uncannily literally manifested after 9/11. Some reporters described "bricks" in the wreckage, and eventually a 20 ton hewn stone quarried from the New York mountains was brought in to be the cornerstone of the proposed Freedom Tower intended to replace the WTC. The governor of New York echoed the sentiment of Isaiah 9:10 by affirming that "we will rebuild." No call to repentance there.

Another specific is that a sycamore tree in a churchyard at the corner of Ground Zero was felled by part of one of the falling towers. Apparently it protected the church from damage so it was celebrated by putting its roots on display and com missioning a sculptor to make a replica of those roots in bronze. That replica now stands beside the main part of this church, Trinity Wall Street Church (a thoroughly apostate church by the way), misunderstood as some kind of memorial to 9/11 and not recognized as a symbol of God's judgment.

Just as uncanny is that where the sycamore had stood they planted a conifer tree of the type of the cedar, also echoing the specifics of Isaiah 9:10.

How can such specific manifestations be anything but God saying Yes you do have Israel's defiant attitude -- these are symbols of it -- and Yes I will bring further judgment if you do not repent?

There's lots more uncanniness involved in this, and more details to what I've already said, but perhaps this is enough to start a thread if anyone is interested.

I've also done some blogging on this subject, here:
<http://watchpraystand.blogspot.com/search/label/9%2F11>

Re: America Under God's Judgment and How God Tried to Warn Us on 9/11, on: 2012/2/12 12:31

The "Hardening of the heart." I am in mourning for America, as I see the writing on the wall.

"But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them.

Thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified!"

"Then was the part of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written.

And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN."

This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

TEKEL; Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.

9-11 was the first installment, the beginning of wrath upon our pagan country. At first, they seemed to be some repentance, and church attendance soared, but it ended in a few months, and back to the American Dream.

Much, much more is coming, even to the annihilation of our armies and government, and war upon our own soil, that will kill millions and millions. Will we repent? I don't think so.

"And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

"Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts."

This is America today, and 9-11 was the trumpet warning.

Isaiah 30:25...The day of the Lord related to "Towers falling".

"And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.

"Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound."

Re: It is not America, on: 2012/2/12 13:52

First of all we have to stop this thinking about America being under judgement. America has long been under judgement in the Romans 1:18-32 since. Since the country abandoned God, God gave her up to depravity.

But we have to stop this carnal thinking that America is like Israel. Israel was a theocracy before God and God's chosen people. The United States had no such claim. And despite the pronouncements of people such as Peter Marshall, Jr. America was not a covenant nation as unto God.

Was America blessed in some way by God. Yes, in the sense that America became the sending nation for missions in the 20th century. Britain was the main sending nation for missions in the 19th century. But now the third world such as China, Africa, and Latin America are putting more workers into the harvest than America.

So what happened to Britain and America? How about the church? As the church in Britain and America turn away from Christ so God removes their candlestick from her midst. Revelation 2 and 3 speak of Christ's warning to 5 of the 7 churches.

So the question should be is the church in America under judgement? Yes. Does the church in America need to repent and come back to Christ? Yes. Does the church in America need reviving? Yes. But again it is not America but the church in America. We are citizens of the kingdom above. We are looking for a heavenly city. When God speaks of a holy nation he is speaking of his church, not the United States of America..

So what was 9/11? I believe 9/11 was God's judgement against the American church. It is his judgement against the church for failing to evangelize the Muslims. Brother Andrew has rightly observed that if we do not go to the Muslims with the love of Jesus Christ, the Muslims will come back to us in anger as terrorists. This is what happened tragically on 9/11. Now the Muslims are evangelizing America. It is not about America, but the failure of the American church to take the gospel to the Muslims.

There is hope for the church in America. But that hope will be given to a remnant who follow the Lamb. They will be a small number who are powerful in the Spirit. They will be holy in Jesus. They will walk with the Savior. They will be revived. They will also be persecuted, imprisoned, and killed. And who will betray this remnant. It will be the 501c3 church. The American version of the Chinese Three Self Patriotic Movement Church.

The question we best ask ourselves is.....are we part of that remnant???????

Posted by Blaine Scogin

Judgment and the Remnant., on: 2012/2/12 14:07

"First of all we have to stop this thinking about America being under judgement. America has long been under judgement in the Romans 1:18-32 since. Since the country abandoned God, God gave her up to depravity." Martyr

The word of the Lord I quoted was not to Israel; it was to Babylon...A purely pagan nation...and that she had not given glory to God, but defied Him. She was therefore judged.

I'm talking about actual judgment, not symbolic. I am talking about 100 million dead Americans, two for one for every aborted child, famine, and fire. I'm talking about the complete destruction of our American Armies, and I'm talking about the invasion, and total occupation of her from invading foreign forces.

We have not entered into judgment yet, and we do not fear that we will. We are eating, drinking, and partying our lives up and borrowing into abysmal debt to keep it going, while trusting in future prosperity...for we sit a Queen.

I really liked your word about the remnant, which was probably your main point, and I heartedly agree with you. Thanks.. Tom

Re: Judgment and the Remnant., on: 2012/2/12 16:32

Brotherton

Agree with the scriptures you quoted and their confirmation of info I have read. I do not dare post because it would scare three quarters of this forum. Let us say that the church, those of the remnant will come under persecution. Nay God enable us to be strong in these final days to accomplish his purposes.

Blaine Scogin

Re: God's revelations through Jonathan Cahn - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/12 18:28

Dear people,

I didn't intend this to be a general thread about America under judgment since I've also known 9/11 was judgment since it happened, and we've been under judgment for decades now and there are many reasons for this that we all know very well.

Let me try to be clearer. You really do have to become aware of what Jonathan Cahn discovered to understand this. There's nothing carnal about what he arrived at.

God Himself revealed to him these incredibly specific correspondences between Isaiah 9:10 and the September 11th attack on America.

This is clearly the hand of God and nothing man could make up, that's what makes it so remarkable.

It is SO uncanny that it gives me renewed hope for the first time in years that it might be possible to show people that there is a God who rules in the affairs of men. It seems to me that this is a gift from God Himself in His great mercy, such an irrefutable revelation that anyone who honestly thinks about it MUST acknowledge Him -- or be in such delusion that there is no hope in that case anyway.

It's given me hope that even my unsaved loved ones might have to come to acknowledge God through this. I got my hardened sister to think about it to the extent that she had to recognize that it is uncanny, although as of yet she hasn't come to repentance herself. My very busy daughter has given my description a quick read-through, says she gets what I mean about it but she doesn't have time yet to really study it. I know she will be looking for reasons to reject it and that's fine. She's a good researcher. I think if she does take the time she will have to recognize that this is not something any human beings could have made up.

But of course the first to repent must be us, the church. It's given me hope for the first time in years that the church MIGHT rise fully to our calling from God to be a witness to this world by repenting in such numbers that God would bring a great revival. There are many pastors around the nation for instance who are guilty of not recognizing 9/11 as God's judgment, and Cahn's study could open their eyes and bring them to repentance -- which could bring the Spirit of God into the churches in great power. If a spirit of repentance came to the churches across the nation for ALL our sins (If My people will humble themselves and seek My face and turn from THEIR wicked ways...) glory could come to this nation and this earth beyond our deepest desires.

COULD. But may not. But COULD. God COULD do this. If He's willing to give us such a clear revelation of His reality as these "harbingers" he gave to Jonathan Cahn it seems He must be wanting to visit us with such mercy.

I've been praying for revival for years but not had much hope it is likely to happen. So I've prepared myself as well as I can emotionally and spiritually for judgment. Both who have posted on this thread echo the reasons why revival seems unlikely -- this nation is so far gone sometimes all we can think is that God MUST destroy it.

But maybe not yet. God COULD still come in mercy and power. At least my hope has grown since becoming aware of his study by Jonathan Cahn.

Of course we may still have the horrific judgment we've been expecting. We ARE in the end times and we know worse is coming. The nation has EARNED judgment as you are pointing out, and God doesn't ignore those things. But He MIGHT still grant us a temporary and wonderful and far-reaching reprieve that purifies and strengthens His people and brings many into His body.

This is truly a revelation from God Himself. I hope those who post to this thread will think about what he revealed and post on that rather than on our general understanding about God's judgment.

Re: Please give some thought to God's revelations through Jonathan Cahn - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/12 23:43

Of course there is no use having a thread if it's only me posting on it but this seems to me to be such an important topic I'd like to try to stimulate some interest in it again if I can.

From about the halfway point down in my first post I try to describe the uncanny correspondences between Isaiah 9/10 and September 11, 2001. I hoped even that little bit would get the point across and whet appetites to learn more. There's a lot more than that in the whole "Harbinger" revelation. Jonathan Cahn presents it all in great detail and gets it across much better, but just the little I've said I would think would show that these "harbingers" were indeed sent by God and not anything that men could do, and that they amount to a message to God's people in America, and that therefore we need to respond to it. Anything sent by God ought to be of prime interest to us. It's both a warning of judgment continuing to come, and an offering of mercy if the churches repent.

Just the little I've given ought to be enough to show you that something beyond the ordinary "coincidence" is going on here.

But there's much much more than that.

Won't you take the time to reread the first post and give it some serious thought?

Re: CJeanne, on: 2012/2/13 8:36

Sister, in all honesty, your thread is not controversial enough. If you want people to respond to a thread pick a hot button topic. You know like the head covering or KJV issues. That really stirs the forum up. Though I be somewhat cynical it is true. More posters, including myself, are drawn toward controversy than truth. Jesus deliver me from that.

OK. What was 9/11? Judgement from God? Yes. Did the church get it? No. I have shared in my earlier post that 9/11 may have been God's indictment against the church for failing to go to the Moslems with the love of Jesus. To win them to Christ. Now that judgement continues with the moslems coming to America to turn this country into a caliphate. This is already happening in Britain and other parts of Europe. Right now there are more Moslems in England than Methodists.

I agree the church needs to wake up and see what is happening. Judgement is not only occurring in America but on the whole planet. With the increase in earthquakes, the uncertainty in the economic system, the increase in wars and rumors of wars, and so forth. God is giving notice that Jesus is coming. And he is coming soon. Mat.24, Mk.13, and Lk.21 teach this. Jesus said he was coming. But sister this forum does not want to hear this truth. Much easier to debate head coverings.

The church needs to wake up. But who will be awake. Will it be the 501c3 church. No she will be snoozing when the alarm goes off and hit the snooze button and sleep again. But the faith remnant bride will be awake to be the light of Christ.

Blaine Scogin

Re: Our response to God's warnings, on: 2012/2/13 8:54

We cannot change the outcome of the signs of his coming. But we can prepare for that glorious day when Jesus will return. We can seek a closer walk with him through extended prayer and being in the word. Not just the book but Jesus as the Word. We can also speak to others about Jesus. I mean don't we want to take as many souls with us in the rapture. It makes no difference what your rapture view is. The idea is to take souls for Jesus.

What I am saying is let's advance his kingdom. His kingdom is advanced one heart at a time coming to Christ. This is why God is slow in coming. For he does not want any to perish but for all to come to repentance. For surely this is far more satisfying than theological debate.

Blaine

Re: How this revelation HELPS us advance His kingdom - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/13 10:34

Hi Brother Blaine,

I pretty much agree with everything you said, but what I'm hoping is that this particular revelation given by God to Rabbi/Preacher Jonathan Cahn would become known to everybody. I hope it might be recognized as such a direct and irrefutable message by God to His American church that it would motivate us to more fervent seeking of Him in fasting and prayer and repentance.

But also it's such an amazing uncanny proof of God's existence and the reality of His word that I hope it would also be recognized by UNbelievers as so uncanny that they have to acknowledge God. We don't usually have such a direct message from God and I think it's an opportunity we can't afford to miss.

Re: But how will we respond?, on: 2012/2/13 11:34

Hi CJ

Sister I agree with what you are saying. For sure God is merciful and has been warning his church for 2000 years., about his imminent return. These warnings have been conveyed through the prophetic word of scripture and the spoken words of prophets. Men such as the caliber of Dave Wilkerson have spoken of coming judgement on the church in America. So this brother, I assume he is such, merely follows in the line of the prophets who speak. The prophets will speak of judgement but who wants to hear that stuff. Even if Paul Washer himself spoke it the great majority of self professing believers would reject it.

It begs the question that if the Christians reject the teachings of Jesus on the imminent return of Jesus, why listen to a prophet speak such? Yet the prophet has to be faithful to God to give his message. And we need to be faithful and evaluate that message and take it to heart.

Blaine

Re: , on: 2012/2/13 11:39

Quote:

----- Since the country abandoned God, God gave her up to depravity.
-----

Well, not necessarily. The country hasn't totally given up on God. There are millions of Christians still within its gate that still believe in God in some fashion or other. There is also the sinner on the street if asked, "Do you believe that Jesus is the Son of God", most will answer "yes".

Then there is the verse that says, where sin aboundeth, Grace much more aboundeth. Where sin is spreading like wildfire, the cross of Christ is even nearer.

There are wicked men in high places, just like in Daniel's day. Planning, scheming, seeing what laws can be changed to persecute the believer.

Years ago I remember hearing a prophesy that came forth from an obscure preacher saying that when they fully accept homosexuality as normal, then the judgement will fall rapidly. They haven't accepted it fully, but it's coming.

We shouldn't look for judgement folks, I know most of you want to stay the hand of God as long as possible. God loves people and He is doing this to shake them up to see that their wicked ways are sending themselves to hell and they need to see that Christ is the answer and sadly, we as believers have failed to carry that message forward.

If anyone needs judgement it's us. We have come to the place in our existence that we have our lives here and other believers have theirs over there and this should not be. We were not born again to set up our own little kingdoms here on earth, we were born again to bear fruit namely the fruit of sinners coming into the body. Ye shall know them by their fruit. Do grapes gather in thorns and thistles? Our churches are filled with this mixture and others are just filled with the same quality as the person heading up the organization, fruitless plants.

We need to wake up folks and to be frank, I don't believe we know how.

Re: Aporoved, on: 2012/2/13 11:52

Agreed. Peter writes so if judgement begins with the family of God what will be the outcome of those who do not obey the gospel of God.

Blaine

Re: God arranged all these events to send us a message - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/13 13:17

>>>>Men such as the caliber of Dave Wilkerson have spoken of coming judgement on the church in America. So this brother, I assume he is such, merely follows in the line of the prophets who speak. The prophets will speak of judgement but who wants to hear that stuff. Even if Paul Washer himself spoke it the great majority of self professing believers would reject it. >The bricks have fallen down but we will rebuild with hewn (quarried) stone; The sycamores have been cut down but we will plant sturdier cedars in their place.

Re: America Under God's Judgment and How God Tried to Warn Us on 9/11, on: 2012/2/13 15:13

Deuteronomy 30:19

This day I call heaven and earth as witnesses against you that I have set before you life and death, blessings and curses. Now choose life, so that you and your children may live....

Our father in heaven who is Yahweh is merciful, he has not brought this judgment upon us, we've brought it upon ourselves. The whole world has gone the way of Cain, the way of continuous war and rebellion. Jude 11

But how can we be protected from what's coming? The Holy Scriptures is littered with the answer; but do we believe it?

King David spoke much of the shadow of protection from war and pestilence, disease epidemics and so forth.

He that dwells in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. Psalm 91:1

Oh!! so there's a "secret place" I wonder where this is? Psalm 91 is beautiful, we must study it diligently. It tells us where we need to be both physically and spiritually to abide under his protection.

VERSE 5 & 6 You shall not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flies by day; Nor for the pestilence that walks in darkness; nor for the destruction that wastes at noonday.

VERSE 8 Only with your eyes shall you behold and see the reward of the wicked.

VERSE 10 & 11 There shall no evil befall you, neither shall any plague come near your dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over you, to keep you in all your ways.

Praise Yahweh

Re: CJ, on: 2012/2/13 15:47

Sister I think you will find some of us are in agreement that the church, and I say it must be the church, needs to repent. When the scriptures speak of 'his people who are called by his name' he means Christians who know Christ have to repent. Unregenerate America cannot repent for this country does not know Christ. But it must be the church.

I think I posted earlier in this thread that judgement begins with the family of God what will be the outcome of those who do not obey the gospel of God.

CJ let's be clear of one thing. The United States of America is not and never was a covenant nation before God. Despite claims by Peter Marshall, Jr. this nation had no special standing before God. Despite attempts by well meaning men to consecrate this nation as unto God this country has no special place in God's economy.

There is only one nation that God favored in scriptures and that was Israel. From Israel came Jesus. Now under the New Covenant it is his bride the church.

Sister we look for a heavenly city in a heavenly kingdom. We are ambassadors for a heavenly King. That king is Jesus. So does there need to be REPENTENCE in America. Oh yes. But it must be the American church that repent and not the nation. For the church had to be the light to the nation. In that we have failed miserably. And for that we must repent.

Blaine Scogin

Re: CJ, on: 2012/2/13 15:56

Sister let me say I am in agreement with the thrust of this thread. However God communicates his message and praise God he is communicating it. We must repent and turn back to him.

Blaine

Re: God Himself connects America with ancient Israel through Isaiah 9:10 - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/13 22:09

There doesn't seem to be any point in trying to continue this thread but I would like to comment on what you said here, Brother Blaine:

>>>>>CJ let's be clear of one thing. The United States of America is not and never was a covenant nation before God. Despite claims by Peter Marshall, Jr. this nation had no special standing before God. Despite attempts by well meaning men to consecrate this nation as unto God this country has no special place in God's economy.

Re: - posted by judges44, on: 2012/2/14 10:52

I have to beg to differ here, about "America is not Israel" because we don't really know who we are. This isn't about replacement theology, either, it is about simple history, facts, and the bible bearing witness to such things.

A study of Isaiah reveals that he is speaking to God's "blind" servant, a witness for God. (Isaiah Chapter 43) Because we do not see where we came from, we think this is not about America.

America's "root stock" of early settlers here was from countries in and around Western Europe. A good majority of peoples in those countries actually are a physical part of the ten Northern tribes of ISRAEL that were cast out of the land around 700 years prior to the advent of Christ. To say that America is not Israel is just not true, and that is why we are experiencing the EXACT SAME THINGS HAPPENING AGAIN, and we know it not (Ecclesiastes 1:9).

have a look at this study, backed up by history AND scripture, and pray about it. It perfectly explains the WHY of the judgment, and there is MORE TO COME.

<http://gods-kingdom-ministries.org/COLDFUSION/booklet.cfm?PID=110>

time to wake up and smell the coffee and know some spiritual truths instead of religious leaven.

Re: This thread is about a specific revelation not about our preconceived opinions - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/14

Hello Judges 44.

This thread is supposed to be about a very specific revelation that God gave to a Messianic rabbi named Jonathan Cahn about 9/11 and His dealings with America. That revelation shows that God Himself is treating America the exact same way He treated His people Israel and He is using the connection to make a call to the American church that is amazingly uncannily direct and personal and ought to be taken seriously by God's people.

This has nothing to do with any supposed blood connection with Israel, it's a spiritual thing concerning America's origins with Christians who dedicated it to God. BUT THIS IS ABOUT JONATHAN CAHN'S REVELATION AND NOT OUR SPECULATIONS.

=====

Now I have to comment: I've been on two threads at SI now and on both threads I had the very frustrating experience that people who responded to my posts obviously hadn't read them through. They didn't seem to care what I actually said, didn't try to address my points except maybe one or two they lifted out of context, but just went off on their own notions, which sometimes involved accusing me of attitudes I couldn't possibly have had.

I've been on some difficult forums in the past but SI takes the prize. I don't understand this on a Christian forum. Isn't there a Proverb about hearing out your opponent or just not answering until you understand what's being said?

Why don't the moderators at least try to be sure that people stick to the topic instead of wandering off on tangents? Well, I suppose that could be a practical problem, I don't know how pressed the moderators here may be.

I began to think it was some kind of joke that nobody on this thread made the slightest effort to respond to what it's actually about -- Jonathan Cahn's revelation of God's hand in 9/11 and how that shows God directly speaking to His church in America -- in literal specific events that echo His word to ancient Israel -- that ought to convince ANYONE of His existence and involvement in His world and His heart for America. Nobody even addressed my first question about whether they'd even heard of Jonathan Cahn and his revelation.

I kept repeating the point and it kept being ignored. All I got was general thoughts about God's judgment of America that have nothing to do with Cahn's study.

I'm new here so I know it can be offensive of me to make comments on how the forum is run, but I'm not going to be staying after these experiences and it began to seem important to mention it. I didn't want to start a new thread to discuss it and maybe putting it here will even get the thread cut, but I guess I'll take that chance.

I love the mission of SI about revival and this thread ought to fit right in, as about God's OWN PERSONAL DIRECT call to us that COULD unify and motivate us, but obviously it can't if I can't even get the topic across.

I'll check back to see if anyone responds to this but at the moment it looks like the thread is dead and my participation here is over.

Re: - posted by MaryJane, on: 2012/2/14 11:55

CJeanne wrote: I began to think it was some kind of joke that nobody on this thread made the slightest effort to respond to what it's actually about -- Jonathan Cahn's revelation of God's hand in 9/11 and how that shows God directly speaking to His church in America -- in literal specific events that echo His word to ancient Israel -- that ought to convince ANYONE of His existence and involvement in His world and His heart for America. Nobody even addressed my first question about whether they'd even heard of Jonathan Cahn and his revelation.

I kept repeating the point and it kept being ignored. All I got was general thoughts about God's judgment of America that have nothing to do with Cahn's study.

I'm new here so I know it can be offensive of me to make comments on how the forum is run, but I'm not going to be staying after these experiences and it began to seem important to mention it. I didn't want to start a new thread to discuss it and maybe putting it here will even get the thread cut, but I guess I'll take that chance.

I love the mission of SI about revival and this thread ought to fit right in, as about God's OWN PERSONAL DIRECT call to us that COULD unify and motivate us, but obviously it can't if I can't even get the topic across.

I'll check back to see if anyone responds to this but at the moment it looks like the thread is dead and my participation here is over.

---

Greetings

I don't want to go even further off topic of your original post but did feel led to comment to this last part of your post.

To answer your question I have not heard of Jonathan Cahn's revelation before so I do not feel I can comment to it at this time. I just wanted to say that I do not believe that those who have posted to your thread meant anything as a joke in what they shared in response to you. I have found in my time here at SI that on occasion I have posted things and GOD has used them to bring forth discussion in a completely different direction than I could have ever imagined...I have learned to go with the ebb and flow of the LORD in other believers' lives and have been very blessed at times in the things they have shared even though it did not remain on topic.

I realize you were hoping to discuss this particular teaching and I understand that you are sharing a burden the LORD has as placed on your heart but I hope you will reconsider and stick around the forum for awhile if you feel so led to do so. There can be much blessing in hearing what the LORD is showing others even if it is not exactly what we were expecting to happen.

God Bless
maryjane

Re: God is a God of order - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/14 12:42

Hi Mary Jane,

Thanks for your comment and I appreciate your point, which is very gracious and charitable, and may even be correct in some situations as we listen to the Spirit.

But I see this in general as a matter of confusion, even a sort of babel of tongues with everybody speaking over everybody else, and a violation of the proverb about hearing a matter before you respond. God is not the author of confusion, and I don't see anything in the Bible that supports the idea that completely ignoring a message in order to give your own different message advances God's purposes or leads to any sort of edification. God can certainly bring edification out of confusion if He desires, but that isn't the norm. God is a God of order.

Re: God is a God of order - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/14 12:42

Hi Mary Jane,

Thanks for your comment and I appreciate your point, which is very gracious and charitable, and may even be correct in some situations as we listen to the Spirit.

But I see this in general as a matter of confusion, even a sort of babel of tongues with everybody speaking over everybody else, and a violation of the proverb about hearing a matter before you respond. God is not the author of confusion, and I don't see anything in the Bible that supports the idea that completely ignoring a message in order to give your own different message advances God's purposes or leads to any sort of edification. God can certainly bring edification out of confusion if He desires, but that isn't the norm. God is a God of order.

Re: - posted by MaryJane, on: 2012/2/14 13:00

by CJeanne on 2012/2/14 6:42:27

Hi Mary Jane,

Thanks for your comment and I appreciate your point, which is very gracious and charitable, and may even be correct in some situations as we listen to the Spirit.

But I see this in general as a matter of confusion, even a sort of babel of tongues with everybody speaking over everybody else, and a violation of the proverb about hearing a matter before you respond. God is not the author of confusion, and I don't see anything in the Bible that supports the idea that completely ignoring a message in order to give your own different message advances God's purposes or leads to any sort of edification. God can certainly bring edification out of confusion if He desires, but that isn't the norm. God is a God of order.

---

Greetings sister

I agree with you, GOD is a GOD of order you are absolutely correct in that. Of course I understand your desire to share what the LORD has laid upon your heart but I do not think anyone who has posted meant to offend you with their responses...What I have discovered is that SI is a forum made up of many different individuals from all walks of life as well from different levels of maturity. Sometimes this I think does play a part in how topics tend to twist and turn as they progress along. Of course out of respect to you as the original poster it is best to try to remain as close to topic as possible but I do also hope we will allow for room for fellow believers to share what the LORD may be placing on their hearts. There have been so many times that a single line from someone's post has been such a blessing to me or GOD will use in my life to answer prayer and I might comment on that even though it does not keep to the entire topic as originally posted. I do not do so out of disrespect to the original poster but rather as following the leading of the HOLY SPIRIT in that moment.

Even now as I type this sister I realize it is not even close to what you were first seeking to discuss in this thread and yet my prayer is that in some small way I will be an encouragement to you and you will decide to stay. Threads come and go and one never knows how GOD might use each others words to speak into our lives and help us walk and grow closer to HIM. I think you probably have much to share here with us and I look forward to that.

God bless you sis
maryjane

Re: - posted by CJeanne, on: 2012/2/14 16:04

Hi again,
I appreciate your intention, Mary Jane, and thanks for your encouragement but I can't see this issue the way you do. I'm glad you enjoy the forum as it is, but the Holy Spirit can speak to us personally just as well through orderly on-topic posts as off-topic ones, just as He so often speaks through a scheduled daily Bible or devotional reading.

As far as the topic of this thread goes, I think Jonathan Cahn's information is probably going to become very well known in the near future anyway so I don't have to push so hard at it.

Blessings in our Lord, Mary Jane
CJ

Re: - posted by MaryJane, on: 2012/2/14 17:03

by CJeanne on 2012/2/14 10:04:44

Hi again,
I appreciate your intention, Mary Jane, and thanks for your encouragement but I can't see this issue the way you do. I'm glad you enjoy the forum as it is, but the Holy Spirit can speak to us personally just as well through orderly on-topic posts as off-topic ones, just as He so often speaks through a scheduled daily Bible or devotional reading.

As far as the topic of this thread goes, I think Jonathan Cahn's information is probably going to become very well known in the near future anyway so I don't have to push so hard at it.

Blessings in our Lord, Mary Jane
CJ

---

Of course I do believe that the LORD speaks to us as you mentioned also through on topic posts and through the reading of the Bible :) Be blessed as well

God Bless
mj