This is a link for a great site, what i wanted to point out was some of the dvds. I actually have the one on the history of calvinism. But, last night at a bible study they played a video called Hells Bells by Eric Holmberg, we watched it for about an hour, but it was really great and in depth, i believe the whole thing like 6 to 8 hours long, but anyways wanted to promote this website and specially the videos. Very good.
