Greg,

Thanks for all of your hard work on the podcast site, I just wanted to drop you a line regarding how much of a blessing they are.

If you need suggestions for sermons from this site I'll be happy to suggest a few (I know how much of a task it is to keep up on these things daily). BUT if others could pitch in we could all be mutually edified, I tend to listen to things recommended by others.

So brothers and sisters if you have any suggestions please put them here so that at least I can listen to them. I've already listened to the most popular sermons but I'm open to suggestions!

Here's my suggestions if you need something to listen to:

A Beautiful Mind - Edgar Reich

Church People on Broadway - Steve Gallagher

Run for Your Life - Carter Conlon (more powerful, more meaningful today than the day he preached it on September 11, 2001)

Much grace and love to all of you!
