Hi,

In the future and for your information we encourage people to "not" link to outside media from sermonindex.net this is a community forum rule. So we would appreciate you keeping to those rules in the future. Also when posting please do not just post a link in a forum topic but if you are starting a new thread, time intention and writing must be involved.

I understand you are new here so you were not aware of these things. God bless you.
