Hey everyone,

My name is Nate Matheson and I come from Duluth, MN. I am here primarily to find others who have been involved with a man named Tom Deckard whether it be family, friends, or they themselves. I have some very close friends involved with this man deeply and I know there are many others out there who are also dealing with similar issues. If any of you are needing someone to talk to or are willing to help others who are in the same circumstance, then please join this group...

Other than that, I have been a believer since I was just a child but it wasn't until just about 5 or 6 years ago that Christ displayed Himself to me as a very serious matter. Since then I have been in the word and in Him. I falter at times, but I have confidence that the Lord is building me up while tearing the old walls down.

I look forward to reading what all of you have to say and pray that our conversations will come from the Lord!

Hi, Nate welcome, I am not familiar with Tom Deckard. Heard the name before that's about it. Could you tell us about him?

Nate Matheson from Duluth?

I had a friend from Duluth named Nate Matheson when I was younger. That's pretty wild. Didn't go to Ordean Middle School by any chance did you?

Yes I did actually :) And I believe I sent you an email a while ago. I have to say it's quite a surprise to hear from you!

In terms of more info on this guy, check out <http://www.jewishprophet.com/>

Just read some of his teachings, and do it with a discerning heart, because I know how deceptive he can be. I don't want to start accusing and slandering this man so just read it for yourself.

This is a very good website explaining a few of his errors.

I apologize. Just figured some people might have the same problem as me. I will remember that from here on out.
