Re: Announcing Sermon Index Prayer Call Sunday July 29, on: 2012/7/26 14:33

Saints, Lord willing Steve Gallagher will lead us in prayer this coming Sunday on our prayer call. In a recent email to me he said this upcoming conference will be what God wants it to be when we pray. And I agree with him.

Hardly a day goes by when something is not posted on the board that reminds us of the urgency of the hour we live in. Dear saints persecution will soon be up on us and we are not ready. Indeed the church is not ready. As such we so need to pray the upcoming conference will awaken the church in N. America.

Brothers and sisters, I am not trying to be dramatic when I say this SI conference and the simulcast venues could be the most strategic in the country. God has put it into the heart of Greg and other brothers to speak on this topic of persecution. This is not a popular or glamorous topic. But one, so critical, the church needs to hear. As far as I know this is the only conference that will dare to address this topic.

But saints we must cover this conference in prayer. Prayer will be the key that will make or break this conference. I am speaking to you from my heart. I am asking you to please come and stand this watch with me. I will stand it alone if I must. But there is greater power in numbers.

For those who have been on the calls thank you so much. For those who have yet to join, please come and pray. For the hour is urgent.

Re: Prayer call tomorrow., on: 2012/7/28 9:19

Saints Brother Andrew has said that prayer is not preparation for the battle but prayer is the battle. Prayer is one of our spiritual weapons by which we bring the victory of Christ over the evil one. Combined with the word we have a powerful weapon that put the devil and demons to flight.

History has shown that eternal destinies of nations have been shaped through prayer. This was certainly true through Reece Howell as his team prayed through the dark days of WWII. Their prayers protected England from the Nazi invasion the British thought would surely come.

Saints we believe the church in America is destined for some rough turbulence in the days ahead. The watchmen have sounded a warning for the church to wake up. Judgement stands knocking at the door. Persecution is at hand. Yet the bride keeps hitting the snooze alarm.

Saints, those who stand on the wall. There is a con call that needs to hear your voice. God needs to hear your heart cries for this strategic conference. Also God needs to hear our cries for the N. American church to wake up. She needs to wake up to the reality of persecution coming up on her

I invite you to come and be with Steve Gallagher as he leads us in prayer tomorrow night. Then call out to God in your own prayers to him for to awaken the church. To cover the SI conference in prayer.

Time of call is 9pm EST, 8pm CST, 7 pm MST, 6pm PST. U S callers please use 209.255.1000 to call in on. Canadian callers please use 559.670.1000 to call in on. Access code for both calls is 109083#.

Hear you on the wall.

Re: The Need to Pray, on: 2012/7/28 12:00

I am always struck by the simplicity of scripture. I was listening to Luke 21 yesterday. In listening to the Bible sometime verses will jump out at you that you may have read several times but never resonated in your spirit. Such was the case with Luke 21:36.

In this verse Jesus tells his disciples to be always on the watch and pray. This command and exhortation are given in the context of Jesus describing the events of the last days. And such we may very well be in.

Saints the final hour may very well be upon us. Please join the con call tomorrow evening. Let us uphold the SI conference in prayer. Let us pray that the church in America in its final hour enter into its finest hour.

Call info below and at start of this thread.

Re: Prayer call tonight, on: 2012/7/29 10:50

It was said on the eve of the Bolshevik revolution, the Russian Orthodox church was debating, How Many Angels Could Dance on the Head of a Pin. All this time the poison of communism was being sown. Persecution came upon the church in Russia. Yet in their ranks the Orthodox said we will not be persecuted. How wrong they were when the blood of martyrs flowed across mother Russia.

I do not know if the story is true. But it tells a good parable. Sure we may not debate the absurd question of how many angels dance on the head of a pin. But even in this forum we get caught up in our own intellectual debates oblivious to the storm gathering at front door. Already some are saying the SI conference is over board in the persecution theme. Some even say persecution will never come to America. After all we are the red, white, and blue.

Saints, most nations such as China and Vietnam, Germany of WWII They thought persecution would not come. But it did. And they were caught unawares. They did not pray.

There is a prayer call that needs to hear your voice. Your prayers. You have the invite of God himself to come and pray. You may participate in this call. This is not a show but participatory prayer. All are welcome. All you need to do is accept his invite to come and pray.

Saints let us not be asleep as the Russian church was. But let us be awake and pray.

Re: , on: 2012/7/29 18:00

Lord willing, Steve Gallagher will open our call in prayer tonight. His schedule will not allow him to share any thoughts. Just to pray the first prayer then quietly slip off.

You may want to listen to Persecution and the Cross by Steve Gallagher. It is a short 10 minute audio blurb about the upcoming Sermon Index conference. Steve will be speaking on apostasy in the end times. I would commend his message on The Great Apostasy. Very sobering. Only 45 minutes long.
