As I was looking through Jeremy Strang's website (author of Realities Of A True Christian), www.time2stand.com, I came across his list of "sermons that are a must" and saw an interview of Paul Washer done by a radio station on December the 9th of last year. After I listened to it I thought others on SI would like to hear it as well. He speaks a lot about issues in America, persecution, and a little about house churches. It is an excellent interview and one that I think many will benefit from. The link below will take you to the page where you can listen to or download the interview. God bless, saints.

I too found this interview to be very good. So much so, I quoted a part of the interview in the new book. Anyone who is interested in a free copy of the new e-book can visit our site and then email me, I will get a copy out asap. www.time2stand.com

Peace and blessings all!

Very sobering words. Interview should be listened by all and taken to heart. These are not the words of a raving lunatic. But these are the words of a respected man of God. Brother Paul needs to be listened to. Words weighed carefully.

Then come on the Sermon Index call tonight and pray for the conference in Atlanta.
