Greg

What a thrilling list! Glory to God. What a 'door of utterance' He has opened here!

Where would the UK access appear in this list?

I am not sure Ron, perhaps its wrapped in under the commerical, education, non-profit sections? or just the unknown. I am still very excited to see this list and I will try and post a list like this every few months. It would be neat to have a map highlighted with every country affected. Perhaps I will work on this.

Greg this is amazing. I was really sobered by the fact that our ramblings and to-and-froing has a global audience. This truly is a public forum. Was blessed by some of the countries accessing.

In some of these places its really dangerous to be a christian let alone speak about Christ. God is indeed very good.

May God bless you abundantly,

Yes its a remarkable thing that the Lord has not only allowed the sermons from these past preachers to go to the ends of the world but also that there is a world wide audience of people who participate and read the forums discussions that we have on many topics. Keep praying saints that God will open many more doors for this ministry to expand into.
