This posted message is for the few that have corresponded with me in the past. The Lord has been keeping me busy, I am blessed. The Lord has kept a roof over my head, clean clothes, plenty of food. I am still struggling with my depression, a few other hurdles have popped up in my path. At times it is discouraging, but I have noticed the "bad" days are being spread apart by the "good" days. Lord willing, I'll stop keeping track of the "bad" vs "good" days soon. Anyways.... I just wanted to "check-in" let you all know I am still around. :)

So good to hear from you! I have been wondering how you are doing...

Are you finding it a pleasure to serve the LORD? I have prayed for you a lot...give me a call sometime, OK?

Thanks for checking in and God bless..
