Can not imagine Jesus or any of his disciples doing anything like this.

This reminds me how the girls acted at our Kidz Klubs...and it was/is devilish - I have seen it in the flesh. It was demonic.

Lord, have mercy!

Are you kidding me? Unbelievable!

Such a staged video. Look at the speaker and how he looks back at the camera. Then, from the time people are sitting to the time they are doing some time warp dance the video is cut and put together.

I wonder what the purpose of this was. What a waste of video, youtube space and just life. I would say the people in this video are showing their true age which seems a bit immature for whatever reason.

Because it has Saddleback does that mean this happened in a church?

Go google the Harlem shake and read the wiki on it. There are other videos about this. I remember hearing this term on some hip hop station for a few minutes a week ago and paid no attention to it because I Flipped the channel.

For those of you who have a church home, might want to ask the youth pastor if he is familiar with it. Any youth pastor should be tuned to what is going on in youth culture and if this is getting to be any kind of thing they will be aware of it.

It looks like just some silly dance put to some music. Looks corny to me. I could see some youth pastors probably trying to use it as a game in youth group and that would be a shame because it brings youth group down to games.

Yes its in a saddlback church its their official youth group ministry. I would not call it a "Church" for not many there would be born again of the Spirit, if they were they would run out.

Everyone needs to watch this message in contrast to this video clip, at the 20 min mark:

Proverbs 21 (part 2): The Price Of Pleasure" Â— Pastor Shane Idleman

This sermon by Idleman is full of quotes worthy of consideration in all of life's situations. Next time I need to keep a paper, pen handy to write them down. But here is one he keeps repeating:

"Is the church effecting the world OR is the world effecting the church?" Shane Idleman

A little odd and disturbing. Still, I also find it odd and disturbing that many of you seem to think you are qualified to judge those young folk's eternal status merely after watching a 30 second clip of them doing a silly dance.

Im not sure anyone is really judging the eternal status of these young people, rather it is a judgement of their present condition. There is such a thing as a right judgement. It has to do with God's house, it is unto wisdom and not unto condemnation. It is rightly comprehending the condition of those who represent Christ whether they truly know Him or not, because they say that they do know Him. It is comprehending the foolishness of the wisdom of this world and understanding that to make such a display, which is in visible intention a display of madness, individualism and confusion, speaking as it does to the unsaved of the world in an intention to bear witness of Christ, by bearing witness of the world itself. This is Babylonian confusion and foolishness at best, and wickedness in its fullness. This is not a judging unto condemnation for none of us know what tomorrow will bring, it is a matter of wisdom and righteousness.

Since viewing this posting and making my own posting I have come to find that this 'thing' in this video is a dance craze going around. Looks like what happens in the video at Saddlecreek is that they decided to record their own version of the 'Harlem Shake'. What we see looks like total blasphemy of a church service and yet what it is is a new dance craze which I see as totally retarded. Taking the place of the Gangnam style dance thing.
