San Francisco, California – Rob Bell, author of the best-selling and controversial book Love Wins, which challenges the Christian teaching of Hell, came out in support of homosexual marriage on Sunday and called "narrow" Christians to repentance.

According to reports, Bell was speaking at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and delivered a message based on his new book What We Talk About When We Talk About God.

During the question and answer period, Bell was asked about his beliefs regarding same-sex "marriage."

"I am for marriage. I am for fidelity. I am for love, whether it's a man and a woman, a woman and a woman, a man and a man," he said. "I think the ship has sailed and I think the church needs — I think this is the world we are living in and we need to affirm people wherever they are."

Oracio, I remember watching a video he made of a vacation on a lake where he was carrying his little son on his shoulders headed back for their cabin when all the sudden it started to rain. It was a beautiful picture of God our Father carrying us through difficulties yet knowing that our end destination will be well worth the trials we will have faced.

I can only be saddened and grieved that the Spiritual insight Rob had received from God has now given way to the wisdom of this world.

The True Gospel will continue to prevail. The Apostles gave their blood for it, and we will also give our blood for it.

lylewise, very interesting regarding that video. I fear for this man's soul.

PQ, amen and amen.
