Question?, on: 2005/5/8 8:10

I am so honored and blessed to have been invited to this ministry by a friend. I do have one question however.

When I post a message and I want to not put my packaged signature on it, I "uncheck" the box at the bottom which says "attach signature". To me, that means my regular signature will not be attached to this message. But when I uncheck it, my regular signature stuff is always there. Does this box work?

Thanks for you help. I sure do appreciate all of you.

It's boots and all, my friend. Even, if you change your signature, it changes it, in every post (previous and future).

I belive all of your information changes as you change it from your profile. As you probably have noticed your first post doesnt say post #1 but what ever number you have posted. The same goes with your avatar and signature. Or thats what I've noticed....
