Brethren,

Below is a link to a roundtable teaching concerning the Olivet discourse laid out for us in Matthew 23 through 25, as well as in Mark and Luke. It takes place in 2012 at BenIsrael, and includes the sharing and teaching a brothers like Reggie Kelly, who was one of Art Katz' (a brother whose sermons we are likely familiar with here on SI) close brethren in fellowship there at Ben Israel. There has been a lot of discussion here on the forums recently about these passages, so I thought this would be good to link to the bringing clarity from the biblical texts. There are many parts to this on YouTube that make up the whole message ( at least seven), but once you link to the first one the others to follow will be down on the screen below.

God Bless,

Jeff

Wow, that was really good. You can't rightly explain all of that away. I'd be curious if anyone checks this out what they think. Meaty, scriptural, & good stuff.
