Any Times Square Church attendees? I just moved to NY, thinking of attending, have been attending Redeemer, and would like to get your thoughts.

Thanks,

Never been there, but if I lived there, that is where I'd go.

I've been there 3 times. I love it so much that I've even considered the 4 1/2 hour commute to attend more frequently!!! I'm visiting again next month. It is by far the best church that I've ever visited!!

I visited once and really was blessed. To my knowledge there are quite a few brothers and sisters on this site that go to that fellowship and I am sure they will key in onto this thread. Great to hear you are going to TSC! :-)

You will have to also attend once in awhile the "brooklyn Tabernacle" the pastor there is Jim Cymbala, I went to that church also and really was blessed.

Yes, I've planned on checking out the Brooklyn Tabernacle, it is in my borough...

I've never been, but I hear their Sermons all the time.

These men are true men of God.

I would love to go and fellowship with them.

Please post your feelings about the glorification of Jesus Christ, there.

I have a friend who went, and she said it was awesome!

God Bless
Nellie

OpenAir:

I don't live close enough but I have been to TSC many, many times and have a lot of friends that attend. I know you will be blessed and provoked to righteousness if you go. If I lived within a couple hours I would go at least on Sunday. Being that you are close I would suggest going to all the services. They have Tuesday and Friday services as well as Sunday.

You also may want to try to contact Art Katz as well. I believe he lives close near there. I have a friend who has been a ble meet with him at least once and I think he has a prayer meeting once a week that maybe you could go to.

The Lord will lead you. Go and see what doors open to you.
