I am whole
Yet I am broken
And the love of the Lord
Is no mere token
He is light and He is love
He's my all in all and He's enough

I was down
You raised me up
I was lost and empty
You came and filled my cup
You're my light and you're my love
You're my all in all and you're enough

I was chained
You set me free
I had suffered defeat
Yet you gave me victory
You're my light and you're my love
You're my all in all and you're enough

I was broken
You made me whole
I was full of sin
And you came and saved my soul
You're my light and you're my love
You're my all in all and you're enough

So take my heart
That once was broken
And let me show the world
You're no mere token
You're their light and you're their love
You're their all in all and you're enough

So here's my heart
Whole before you're throne
It once was lost
Now shall never be alone
You're my light and you're my love
You're my all in all and you're enough

Fresh praises to our God and King
New every morning, Amen

Amen sister, I wrote it yesterday. The sister in Scotland is going into the recording studio this week with the other one so I am looking forward to hearing the results of their labors. I tried to pay for their studio time but she and her husband would not take any money, they said they were sowing into the kingdom. Isn't that wonderful?.....bro Frank
