

Devotional Thoughts :: God Heard Their Groaning

From Exodus 6

Without a doubt, Egypt was God's provision. Eventually though and by design the pleasant beginning had reached its unpleasant ending and the people were groaning under the weight of the unpleasantness.

Have you ever been in a situation you knew God orchestrated (a relationship, a job, a ministry) but eventually, you found yourself doing more groaning than grinning? It is a perplexing circumstance. On the one hand you know God put it together but at the same time you also know that it is growing more and more unpleasant.

It may be by design. The temporary provision may be nearing its end. A new provision may be on the horizon. It's not for you to figure it out. Neither can you lift a finger to hurry it along.

All you can do is . . . Be still; and know that God is God. Be still; and know that all through your groaning, HE is working out HIS plan.
