My wife posted this on Facebook today- thought it was good.

"I want to say something that I believe with all my heart. It is about the power of prayer. Much much more than not, I have seen God move in mighty ways because we as Christian brothers and sisters have joined or may I say banded together praying, travailing, reaching up to the heavens for God's help. Just as the spirit world is unseen but very real, so is the power that lives in every Christian soul. We have Jesus living in us! Stop and think a minute what that means! He gave us that power to move hearts and minds to Him. To heal, to comfort, to be strong in adversity, even unto death. There was a great nugget inside the whirlwind this past weekend. Jesus's power."

A blessed word, from your wife, Todd.

Thankful too, that The Lord kept your parents safe.
