Feminism began in the Garden of Eden—not in 18th-century France or 19th-century New England. The tempter invited our first mother to question God’s ability to define her—“Hath God said?” (Genesis 3:1). This is the heart of feminism today—a constant questioning of anyone else’s ability or right to tell us who we are as women. - Jennie Chancey - mother of 12 and founder of Ladies Against Feminism.
