I wish they would find more older manuscripts of the bible or a treasury similar to the dead sea Scrolls

The truth is the New Testament Bible of all literature has the most manuscript evidence by x1000 times then any other literature out there. So that in itself shows the weight of proof of the accuracy of Scriptures and the trust worthiness of it.

if we cannot trust the New Testament Bible then by the same standards we definitely cannot trust any other literature ever produced for the last 2000 years.
