

Miracles that follow the plow :: Need prayersNeed prayers , on: 2019/2/11 0:06

Hey guys, I'm in need of prayers I am struggling really bad with some new changes at my church and adapting to it. Also been really struggling with lust in my heart and with other sins. Your prayers for me to not make some bad decision like I have been thinking to just leave my church especially when the lord has been doing a work in my wife's heart since bringing us here, she hadn't really ever attended church much at all in the 15 years I have been with her and she has been attending faithfully for the last year and a half was such a miracle and ended up getting baptized and going to women fellowships and having desire for God and his word. The lord has been doing something amazing with her. I don't want to mess that up, just a little frustrated at some of the things at our church that is affecting me.
