SermonIndex Announcements :: Posting Comments?

Posting Comments? - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2003/11/12 1:32

Just a reminder and a pointer: AT SermonIndex.net I am trying to make the site as interactive as possible! As you already probably know you can post comments and replies in the forums on many topics.

Also you can post comments on polls by going to the poll results page.
 (https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/xoopspoll/) Click here to view all available polls to vote for and comment on!

Also There is a new featured sermon every few days and you will notice there is a link called: 'comments?' you can click that to be able to leave your comments on that sermon. Also a link will be added to the description of the file so it can be commented on later through the downloads section.

This is being done so that you can have more interaction with the site to share your opinions and feelings on sermons, etc.

*I am open to any other ideas anyone has! ;-)
