

General Topics :: art for His Glory

art for His Glory - posted by formidable (), on: 2005/10/5 8:32

i have no problem with art, & the christian.

ive put a few links here to show some good art & prints.

<http://secure.paystream.net/shops/RMI/browse.asp?cat=5&path=5> ignore whos site this is, the guy that painted these prints is australian & surrports the ministry through it.

<http://www.revelationillustrated.com/shop/default.asp> a bit different but a persons interretaion of the book of revelation.

<http://www.kenduncan.com/> great australian photographer who did all the still shots for the passion, his site is awesome,

He actually gave our prime minister a book of pictures he had taken of parts of america. which was handed to george bush i think the day before sept 11 & he credits all his pics to God & thats his whole purpose of taken photos.

he has a pic of ayers rock which is a place it never rains its hot as all year round.

he got up & the Holy spirit said it was goin to rain get his camera he told some people & they laughed.

what did he get a picture that no one else had, & it goes on well worth the time.

theres a quote thats goes" i wish all art was in the services of the creator" & i think they should be.

(edited didnt mean to click on new thread, was meant to go on the already started thread on art, sorry )