After prayer and consideration there was time spent in designing an new email newsletter and I believe the Lord gave it the name: "The Herald". After having that name I went to the scriptures and came across Matthew 26:5 where someone heralds the proclamation of the bridegroom coming. Surely the time is coming for the return of Jesus Christ! The question has to be stated is the church ready? the answer is a sad, NO. Hopefully the materials presented in these mailouts will be agents to arouse the spiritual man to the soberness of the day, "watch and pray" must be our motto.

The first issue is being sent out tonight God willing being the belated october issue. Questions and comments welcome.

Sounds wonderful. Do you have a pdf file to download and print them like the newsletters?

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2005/10/22 0:35

The Old Path "print" publication newsletter is available for download in pdf on the front page of the site always and there is an archive for that publication here. This publication will still be released monthly.

The herald "email" publication will be available when it is sent out to email's. There will be no pdf version of this newsletter because its much simpler. It will have an article that is more geared towards the featured sermon or theme on the site for the month. The article also will be posted in the forums for comments and can be saved as a pdf from there.

Love the look and title...

And knowing the contents will back that all up...

Well done as usual brother.

Thanks brother, the responses from people who got the email thus far have been positive. It is certain I need a proof reader. :-P

The email wasn't perfect in that in pc systems some of the text will be ajar and also the featured sermon script didn't work in some of the email systems. So next email send out all these things will be worked out well.

Here is that handy dandy little tool that can make us all look more intelligent than we really are ... :-)

Also a handy little gadget, <http://toolbar.google.com/?promo=mor-tb-en>

Nifty integrated spell-checker, translator (novelty) and pop-up blocker that works OK with a skip-around feature.

Alas, I fear that with google's attention to programming, it shall someday stranglehold the software peripherals market...

Hi Greg

I like it. do you have a 'Herald' archive planned so that new Slers can catch up as necessary? Or have I missed it?

Re: - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2005/10/23 10:33

Hi Ron,

The main article will be posted in the forums, ie here is the first one. Great idea Ron, I will get a thread going for this asap.

I hope you don't still think that you don't have any gifts in designing or are not creative. You did a great job. More than how it looks, it's good to see the fruits of your relationship with God. He continues to inspire you and give you vision, and that's a blessing to see here on SI. I read your article, and it's good to see that you're writing again. To God be the glory!

Thank you for your encouragement Yolanda and yes I do plan to try and write more as God leads. I am hoping that as I set my heart to the pen it will result in the furtherance of the Kingdom of God.
