

General Topics :: 2 Questions of Books

2 Questions of Books - posted by letsgetbusy (), on: 2005/12/18 23:03

1) My wife just bought me a daily devotional version of Christian in Complete Armour by Gurnall. Does this have the same text as the regular book or is it only excerpts?

2) Anyone ever read or heard a review of Ablaze for God by Wesley L. Duewel? She bought me that also.

Re: 2 Questions of Books - posted by dohzman (), on: 2005/12/18 23:25

Praise God for a godly wife who like the woman that fears the Lord has risen up early to cloth her household (husband) with scarlet. Gurnalls is a 2 volume set and is very profitable no matter what form you get it in, condensed or not(in devotional form it would probably be the readers digest condensed version, but still a very excellent find!). I believe times square church website has ---or had at one time--- both volumes for sale. Duewel, I've only read excerpts from but from what I've read its good stuff. :-)

Re: 2 Questions of Books - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2005/12/18 23:26

Quote:
-----1) My wife just bought me a daily devotional version of Christian in Complete Armour by Gurnall. Does this have the same text as the regular book or is it only excerpts?
-----

I would definitely guess that its abridged and modernized, but I am sure its great to have! Byte size gurnall. I still think William Gurnall is one of the most quotable puritan authors, his writings are so condensed.

Quote:
-----2) Anyone ever read or heard a review of Ablaze for God by Wesley L. Duewel? She bought me that also.
-----

This is a great book and really is short and concise about some great revival accounts and men used in revivals. Wesley Deweul is a renowned speaker on revivals and there are 2 videos of him on this site!