Diane,

I just visited your website and I really enjoyed your articles. I especially enjoyed the one about The Red Light District(hypocrisy). I was able to see myself in you. I have realized how I am judging others and basically forgetting where I came from. Thanks for taking the time to put it together.

Thank you Murray,

It's neat how life experiences can bring us into a sense of togetherness - even though we don't know each other at all.

Hi Diane,

I have really enjoyed your posts and now having read your bio on your website I feel like I know you a little. The picture helped since I am a visual learner.

I also sense some common ground in our pasts. I was raised in a Christian home. I was blessed with six sons, mostly grown now. Discipline may cease but parenting doesn't. I would not want it any different. My oldest son is my best earthly friend even though we are 600 miles apart.

Thanks for sharing and allowing the life of Christ to radiate from you.

In Christ,

Jeff

Thank you, Jeff for the affirmation. I always hope that I am not merely expressing ideas, but also sharing myself.
