

Altar Call: A Gracious Response

~Other Speakers G-L: Sermon Illustrations II:

A young couple came to the pastor just before the service and desired to be married. The pastor requested them to be seated in the congregation and stated that he would marry them immediately after the service. No one in the congregation knew of it. When the service was over, the pastor quietly said, "Those who wish to get married will please come to the front." Immediately thirteen women and one man came forward. People respond easily and quickly for what they really desire. If one is anxious for God, it does not require much coaxing.
