

News and Current Events :: Children starved to coerce mom to renounce Christ

Children starved to coerce mom to renounce Christ - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2008/12/24 10:22

Children starved to coerce mom to renounce Christ

Authorities in Egypt are starving children ages 2 and 4 to try to force their mother to abandon Christianity and return to Islam, according to reports from several ministry organizations.

The Egypt for Christ Ministry is reporting the woman, who converted to Christianity about five years ago and was arrested as she tried to leave her home country just days ago, also has been sexually assaulted by police officers.

The woman, identified by the ministry as Martha Samuel, also has been beaten and tortured in effort to force her to return to Islam, with police promises for her release if she accepts, reports are confirming. ...

read more: <http://www.wnd.com/index.php?fa=PAGE.view&pageId=84346>

Re: Children starved to coerce mom to renounce Christ - posted by rreighe (), on: 2008/12/26 21:15

i dont know about most but that would make me even more... what would be a good word... stationary on who i worship? yeah it would make me more motivated.

Re: - posted by Miccah (), on: 2008/12/26 22:28

rreighe wrote:

Quote:

i dont know about most but that would make me even more... what would be a good word... stationary on who i worship? yeah it would make me more motivated.

Brother, do you have children?

I know that I can speak for most that have children, but for this to happen to one's children would bring most to the breaking point.

Yes, I understand what the scriptures say, but sacrificing your children for your belief is the ultimate.

I pray for this mother and father. I pray that the Holy Spirit would fill them full of grace and love that they could withstand this assault from the enemy. His will be done.