I pray that you will continue the Old Paths publication. I have recently heard of it and have read the previous issues and I thank God for them. ;-)

Thanks for the wonderful message! Things are going well in the beginning steps to get this publication off and going, do keep praying for me for wisdom and getting it all together and favor from God for editors and people who want to contribute articles. I have approached some good speakers for them to contribute to the publication.

Just a note, when you are posting in the forums press on the "reply" button on the message that you want to respond to so that way it keeps all the conversations in one "thread".
