Hi,

As per the rules of the sermonindex.net forums I would ask that you do not promote other people's sermons outside the sermons listed on sermonindex

It is listed here as a rule:
<https://www.sermonindex.net/register.php>

Quote:
-----It is very important to note that you are joining a vibrant community of believers across the entire world. The main reason for the discussion forums being on this site in the first place is for discussions revolving around the audio sermon speakers and the themes and topics they bring up.

The paramount theme of the site is revival! The discussing of the history of revivals and spurning each other onto praying to this end to see a revival across the world is one of the chief ends of the discussion forums.

It should be noted that the underlying principle in discussions needs to be EDIFICATION. Any discussions that are not in concord with this can be edited or deleted by the Moderators. Also posting of links to other audio sermon materials on other sites from the forums is prohibited also. Please review and understand what the rules are of this website as a member you are expected to obey them. By registering you are agreeing to these rules and stipulations for proper use of this website. Read the Community Rules...

"Also posting of links to other audio sermon materials on other sites from the forums is prohibited also."

Thank you for respecting these rules.

Sorry didn't know!
I will keep this in remembrance!
