Speaking to a nation that marginalizes God, a church that plays spiritual games and women who lead desperate, deceived lives, Nancy Leigh DeMoss offers God's clear message for troubled days. Drawing from the words of two prophets of God, Isaiah and Jeremiah, she exhorts Christian women to wake up, cry out for mercy, boldly live and speak the truth of Scripture and, through the power of transforming faith, become God's instrument in our lost culture.

also there is another message:

Since it was first shared with a group of 4000 Christian workers in 1995, this powerful message has been greatly used of God to ignite revival fires in thousands of lives, churches, and ministries. Brokenness the heart God revives is an invitation to encounter God on his terms. It is a call to discover His heart and His ways; a challenge to embrace a radically new way of thinking and living, in which the way up is down, death brings life, and brokenness is the pathway to wholeness.

Wow! Greg,

I had never heard of this lady, but I sure know why you added her to SI. Do we have here a modern-day Ravenhill, Tozer, .... ?

She also plants large expectations in the hearts of women: "The influence of one woman is powerful ... for either good or evil." Then she compares Eve and Mary - insightful!

A message for everyone, not just women....

Diane

Yes, the Lord has used these messages in my life. She is definitely a modern day prophetess!
