

Revivals And Church History :: praying for revival praying for revival - posted by Paulus (), on: 2004/2/13 4:07

I'm signing in. Please all pray for the Church in Ireland , the penitential scene is fairly free from the madness that has swept other areas, but there are two streams one of which tends to follow the newer trends. Pray that we will have a real revival that lets us discern the foolish from the real.

Paul Carley

Re: praying for revival - posted by sermonindex (), on: 2004/2/13 4:15

Quote:
 -----Please all pray for the Church in Ireland , the penitential scene is fairly free from the madness that has swept other areas, but there are two streams one of which tends to follow the newer trends. Pray that we will have a real revival that lets us discern the foolish from the real.

AMEN yes Lord please move in your church in a real way.. let us not play around with your holy calling you have entrusted us with and with your Holy Spirit you have given to us.

I encourage you brother to watch this video by Richard Owen Roberts who is an authority on revival history.. he shows clearly many fallacies in modern evangelical doctrine and also the difference between Experience centered revivals compared to Word centered revivals:

(<https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/mydownloads/visit.php?lid3700>) Nature of Revival (video) 89.65 MB

Also this is a powerful rebuke to a lot of the silliness of so-called revival that is happening in America and around the world by Andrew Strom:

(<https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/mydownloads/visit.php?lid3188>) Thundering In Nashville

These two messages by Leonard Ravenhill are great to listen to. They are recorded quite late into his life and he is desperate for a true move of God.

(<https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/mydownloads/visit.php?lid1838>) True Revival - Part 1 (CD Quality) 25.61 MB

(<https://www.sermonindex.net/modules/mydownloads/visit.php?lid1839>) True Revival - Part 2 (CD Quality) 25.78 MB