Website Address Disapearing??!! - posted by BenWilliams (), on: 2007/3/1 11:38

Here's my problem, every time I go to edit my profile, the website space is blank. I fill in my website, save the changes, and it shows it on my profile.

Once I log off, and get back on, it has disapeared, and I have to go through the process again to make it be on my profile.

Am I the only person having this problem?

I believe the problem is that you should not put in the "http://"

Just put the website: www.yoursite.com and then save changes. that should work. And yes everytime you update your profile the website will disappear. Its just how the script works.
